A Look Back

QUESTION
What held up the Glen Merchants Invitational fastball tournament at the beginning of June in 1982?

ANSWER
Summer.
It turned out to be one of the soggiest weekends of the season.

Mayor Russ Miller did the honors of drawing the names of prize winners from the participants who took part in the Knights of Columbus' Bowlathon. Seen here, from left, are Gloria Crawford and Bill Crawford, chairmen of the event; Mayor Miller; Charlie MacLeod,

Bowlathon winners named

The winners of prizes in the Knights of Columbus annual Bowlathon have been announced, following the drawing of the winning names last week, presided over by Halton Hills Mayor Russ Miller. The bowlathon, which was held April 26, was to raise money for the fight against drug abuse in the Halton Hills area.

To be eligible for the prizes that were available, the bowlers had to gather pledges, and have their money turned into the organizing committee by May 9.

W.A. Crawford was the winner of a set of golf clubs, donated by North Halton Sports. Second prize of a portable air humidifier donated by Aerostatic Technology of Canada, was won by Doug Murcott, and third prize of a bicycle donated by Canadian Tire in Georgetown, went to Gloria Crawford. Fourth prize, a merchandise voucher from North Halton Sportswear, was won by Len Walker.

The other four prizes were food vouchers, contributed by Miracle Food Mart, IGA, A and P, and Loblaws. These were won by Harry Patterson, John Murphy, C. Berthelsen, and DeeDee Haynes.

It is expected the bowlathon will have raised about $2,000 for the Halton Hills Drug Abuse Committee.

Make-a-Wish

The Make-A-Wish golf tournament is set to get underway this Monday at the Georgetown Golf and Country Club. Players will begin to tee off at 8:30 a.m., and will continue to head out until early afternoon.

Halton Hills Mayor Russ Miller is once again ready to fire the starter's gun to officially begin the Ninth Annual Road Race.

Runners will take their marks, Sunday, June 14, beginning 8:30 a.m. at the Gordon Alcott Arena, Georgetown. Local runners will be eligible to run in the five kilometre race while out-of-towners, as well as Halton Hills residents, will be welcome in the 10 kilometre event around the streets of Georgetown.

Registrations will be taken at the Recreation and Parks Department on James Street in Georgetown until Friday, June 12. Registrations will be accepted race day until 8 a.m. Entry fees are $7 for an individual and $10 per family. Thanks to the generous donations from William Neilson Co. Ltd., Crossway Donuts Ltd. and Halton Bun Master and Fruit Market the Recreation and Parks Department will be able to offer a light breakfast to the runners after the race.
