Disabled adults enjoy camp life

Frank Walker of Mississauga is one of 300 disabled adults who have the opportunity to go to one of four summer camps run by the Ontario March of Dimes.

To operate the camps and its other services for disabled persons over 18 years of age, a new summer fundraising campaign is now under way to raise $42,000.

Fourteen years ago, Frank was involved in a car accident which left him in a coma for two years. In 1974, he came out of the coma. Although his intellect was not affected, Frank lost strength and movement in his limbs, and needs to use a wheelchair for mobility.

Last year he was able to go to the Ontario March of Dimes summer camp at Scanlon Creek.

"It was so easy to get around in my wheelchair. One of the reasons was the level lay of the land, as well as having ramps which go right to your room... Another great thing about this kind of experience is that if you choose to rest and relax, you can."

Many campers are able to experience a special kind of freedom that they seldom have during the rest of the year. Swimming or paddling in a life preserver may give a physically disabled person the sense of freedom to move he or she seldom has on land.

There are four camp locations for the Ontario March of Dimes Camps: Scanlon Creek in Bradford, Albion Hills in Bolton, Villa Loyola in Sudbury.
