Ducky weather is no problem for the Greeks

By Don Scullen
Herald Special

Last Sunday's weather was better suited for ducks than gridiron heroes, but the Georgetown Flag Football League still managed to field a full slate of games.

The steady downpour dampened offences. Only the Greeks with a 38-12 win over M and M Pro Sports were able to mount a decent attack.

In other games Dairy Queen squeaked out a 17-14 victory over surprising Karry Kitchens, Corrigan Instrument fell 21-14 to the Longhorns and North Halton Sports beat the Peel County Bandits 21-6.

Dairy Queen vs. Karry Kitchens
The rain on Sunday was not accompanied by thunder, except of course at the GFFL playing field where Wimp Pemberton thundered in disgust after his team lost in the 11th hour to mighty Dairy Queen.

Karry Kitchens held a surprising 7-0 lead at the half on Doug Gillespie's first quarter touchdown. After Stu Lunn scored a major for Dairy Queen to tie it in the third quarter, Karry Kitchens regained the lead on an Ian Melver TD.

With humiliating defeat close at hand, Dairy Queen rallied. Randy Lunn scored a touchdown to tie the game again. Shortly after, Jeff Lockwood attempted a 35-yard field goal. Somehow he managed to loft the football - now heavy with water like an overripe watermelon through the uprights.

Karry Kitchens regained the ball with plenty of time to score but an interception by Herb Hulme of the Queens destroyed their visions of victory.

Longhorns vs. Corrigan Instrument
Normally the high powered offences of these teams could be expected to put a lot of points on the board, but on this day the elements conspired to negate the expected scenario.

Corrigan gained a 14-7 first half lead on touchdowns by Brent Ferguson and Mark Milton. Bob Davey responded with a TD for the herd.

In the second half however, the show was all Longhorn Jim Lindsay and Wayne Donsmore scored herd majors to salt away the victory.

The Longhorns now must hope that M and M Pro Sports can work a miracle or two over the next two weeks. The lowly Sports take on the league leaders, Dairy Queen in back-to-back games. If they don't win or tie one of those games, Longhorns will be bridesmaids once again to the Queens, regardless of what happens in the final game of the season.

North Halton Sports vs. Peel County Bandits
With this victory, North Halton pulled into a fifth place tie with Karry Kitchens. Bill Fournier, Mark Waters and Greg Lawr scored North Halton TD's. Lawr also had a two-point conversion.

Peel County's season of misery continued as they dropped their ninth game in nine tries. They did, however, manage to break North Halton's shutout bid with a Rob Arthur TD. Brad Klavakins contributed a pair of interceptions to the Bandit cause.

Greeks vs. M and M Pro Sports
Despite the deluge, the Greeks had little difficulty moving the ball against the meek Pro Sport defence. Les Starr and Mike Michm each counted a pair of TDs for the winners and each scored a two-point conversion as well. Other Greek scorers were John Karoludas with a touchdown and a Jan Reynolds and Frank Medzanski with two-point conversions.

For the Pro Sports, Gord McNeilly and Pete Izzio scored touchdowns. On the Izzio TD quarterback Bob Dean deftly deflected the ball off Greek defender Doug Getty's arms and into Izzio's hands.

The art of baseball

The boys (and girls) of summer have been honing their baseball skills on the diamonds all season in preparation for their respective league playoffs. And nowhere is the term "boys of summer" more literally taken than on the T-ball diamond. A few of the finer points of the game were displayed Monday night when the Royal Canadian Legion Rangers tangled with the Bumper and Bumper Reds. (Herald photos)

Ball hockey league ends regular schedule

The Georgetown Ball Hockey League ended its regular season last week, with a full slate of games being played.

The M and M Flames were led by the three-goals performance of Shawn Coffey in a 6-4 victory over Leferink Disposal. Other scorers for the winners included Guy Hillock, Al Nurse, and Dave Coffey with single markers each.

For Leferink, Pete Smedema notched a pair of goals, and Ron Hessels and Pete McKennon added singles.

Midas Muffler had a relatively easy time in blanking Custom Car Sound 6-0, as six different players shared in the scoring. Tom Brown, Ed Dwyer, Tom Glover, Brad Ferguson, Duane Hatcher, and Emile Elliott all scored for the winners.

Cox Landscaping took a 7-3 decision over the Hooters. Stephen Hoy and Andras Hack scored a pair of goals each to pace the winners, while Mike Stone, Phil Wicken, and Glen Leslie added singles.

Steve McCarthy, Dean Morgan, and Ray Fisher replied with single markers for the Hooters.

Greg Robertson scored twice to lead Night Crossing to a 5-2 win over Little Trailer. Howie Oram, Eric Clark, and Brian Stone accounted for the other Night Crossing goals, while Mike Pollard and Doug Keene replied for Little Trailer.

Station received a pair of goals each from Jeff Coughlan and Rick Pool as they downed T and R Paving 4-1. Jim Ferri had the lone reply for T and R Paving.

The Harvesters knocked off Annual Control by the score of 3-1. B Ferri and M Godfrieski notched a pair of goals each for the Harvesters, while singles went to A Van Der Leest, R Premitch, and a Talstra.

For Annual Control, John Graham Smith, Kevin Donors, and Bill Wray each had singles.

The other league matchup had North Halton Sports edging Bomper Pizza 6-5, however no list of scorers was available.

Post season play is up in the air

There is only a week left until the Georgetown Industrial Fastball League playoffs start, and there is absolutely no way of knowing who is going to play who.

It sounds crazy, but now there are only five points separating the top five teams.

There is only one game left on the regular season schedule, but due to rain or mutual cancellations, there are still 11 games to be made up in a short time before playoff action fires up.

It's going to be a very interesting week around the league, with Apple Auto Glass only three points back, having won four in a row, and the Mike Adams Realtors still going strong winning eight of their last ten outings.

Also, the Bluebirds look as if their mid season lapse is changing as they seem to be fielding their regular strong team for the time being.

Don't think that the first place Akers Plus Welding crew aren't looking over their shoulders to see what's happening!

Meanwhile, the Sea Air and Trackers squads are trying to regroup as they both lost their best pitchers.

It will also be interesting to see if those Station House boys can't throw a damper into things along the way, to play the spoilers.

To summarize, last Wednesday the Mike Adams Realtors thumped the Sea Air Oldtimers 10-0 in a five inning mercy rule contest. Ray Peacock pitched his way to game player status. John Barnes helped out with a two-run homer.

And finally the Bluebirds battled the Station gang to a close 5-0 decision. Big Brian McKenzie, who threw a strong game, was his teams game player.

League playoffs are slated to begin Aug. 19.

Padres win two games in squirt playoff set

The Padres came up with a pair of victories over the Cubs, and the Giants and Indians split a pair of games, as the Squirt Baseball League entered playoff action last week.

In their playoff opener the Padres took a decisive 2-0 win over the Cubs, but in their second game, had to hold on to edge the Cubs 12-10.

Robert Larose led the way for the Padres in their first victory as he collected five hits in six trips to the plate. Danny VanderByl also chipped in with a home run for the winners.

The Padres came out on top in their second playoff game with Cubs, but needed a late inning rally to stage a comeback.

For the Padres, Paul Farmer played well defensively, and Philip Boyd and Mike Downs both belted home runs. The Cubs were hitting the ball hard, with Tim Van Hinte and Christian Reyce leading the way.

In other playoff action, the Giants took it on the chin from the Indians 2-10 in their opener, but bounced back to edge the Indians 25-20 in their other outing.

The opening game saw the Indians lead throughout, as Brent Hutzal, Fraser Throm, and Steve Collins were all impressive on the field. For the Giants, Neil Smith and David Astrauskas hit home runs.

Their second game featured an impressive comeback for the Giants, as they trailed by 13 runs going into the final inning. But they managed to come back with 18 runs to win the game.

For the Giants, David Astrauskas led the way offensively with three round-trippers, while Neil Smith had two, and Brendan McCallum added one.

For the Indians, Michael Wallinga turned in a well-executed double play to help his team defensively.

Bantam Eagles set to spread wings at Kirkland Lake championship

By MIKE TURNER
Herald Sports Editor

Georgetown will be well represented in the Ontario Baseball Association Bantam B championship tournament, slated for Labor Day weekend in Kirkland Lake.

Brian Hannah, manager of the Standard Products Bantam Eagles received word recently that his team has been invited to take part in the tournament as representative of the Central Ontario Baseball Association.

This marks the first time ever a Georgetown bantam team has been ranked in such a high category.

A total of eight teams will take part in the event, scheduled to run Sept. 5-7. A double knockout format will be used to decide the Ontario champion.

In the past, Georgetown has competed at C and D levels, but Hannah expects they will be able to take a good run at the stiffer competition in the B category.

"I think our team is good enough to win against any team we play, he says. "Even with Double-A and Triple-A teams, we're in the game. We'll certainly be competitive. It's nice to finally have that type of team."

Georgetown was selected to play as COBA's representative for several factors, one being population.

But they also earned their championship berth for compiling an excellent record on the field. Their record as of last weekend was 18 wins and 11 losses. The calibre of competition they play against also had strong bearing on their selection.

The Bantam Eagles have been to several tournaments this season as well. At Guelph, they won the consolation title, and in Bolton they were finalists.

The experiences at the various tournaments should prove invaluable when they take to the field in Kirkland Lake.

Among the teams in the running for the B crown will be Port Hope and Port Colborne -- teams Georgetown has met earlier this year in tournaments. They were suc-sists of 13 players, some of whom have played together since they started in organized ball.

The team's pitching staff consists of Van De Valk, Bob Dezeens, John Butler, and Gord Burke. All four can take a turn at infield positions when they're not on the mound.

Chris Cambouris and Adam Hagen switch off catching, and Hagen is an alternate infielder while Cambouris sees duty in the outfield, as well.

Ed Doyle and Kevin Usher split duties at first base and both are effective in the outfield.

Jeff Hannah and Mark Lovito also play on the infield, while Kevin Barrow, Dave Ridley, and Norm Young cruise the outfield.

Assisting Manager Hannah are coaches Hal Ridley and Ted Barrow.

Aside from trying to win ball games, the Eagles will have other activities to keep them busy during the month of August.

To offset costs of chartering a bus for the trip and renting motel rooms, several fund raising activities have been planned.

Throughout August, players will be conducting ongoing chocolate bar sales. A car wash has also been planned for this Saturday at Pizza Hut from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and a returnable bottle drive will be held the week beginning Aug. 17.

On Aug. 22 a fund raising concert will be held at a farm, located about 13 kilometres south of Cedarvale Park, heading out from Main Street. The location will be marked with a GBA sign.

Hannah says they are attempting to raise as much money as possible for the trip. He estimates total costs of the excursion will be in the neighbourhood of $6,000.
