Car ditched

A limehouse man was involved in an accident in Milton Sunday. The 22-year-old was driving his 1983 pick-up north on the Sixth Line at about 3 a.m. when he lost control and struck two mailboxes before landing in the ditch. The driver fled the scene, leaving his truck and did not notify the police of the accident, police said. About $1000 was caused to the car and $200 damage was caused to the mailboxes and posts. The driver has been charged, police said.

A 27-year-old Milton man was involved in an accident as a result of slippery roads Friday at about 6:15 p.m. He was driving his 1985 Ford south on the Ninth Line when he reached the top of a hill and began to slide, losing control of the car. The car went into the ditch and rolled on its side. A passenger in the car, from Puslinch township, received minimal injuries.

Turns too wide

A 33-year-old Georgetown man has been charged following an accident that occurred on Mountainview Road, Georgetown Friday at about 5 p.m. He was driving north on Mountainview at River Drive when he tried to make a right turn. Car robber

Several cars were broken into over the weekend in the area of Marilyn Crescent.

Flood control the biggest budget item for CVCA

The Credit Valley Conservation Authority is asking the provincial government for over half a million dollars to purchase Willow trailer park.

The Authority officially agreed to the purchasing agreement Aug. 25.

The Authority is asking the Ministry of Natural Resources for the money, which totals 55 per cent of the purchase cost.

The Town of Halton Hills has said in principle it would pay the other 45 per cent of the acquisition costs in an agreement reached late July.

The Willow park trailer camp was identified in the Credit River Flood Damage Reduction Study as the "highest priority flood damage centre on the Credit River watershed," a report by the CVCA General Manager Vicki Barron said.

"With the exception of our Cooksville Creek Flood Control Project commitments this project is the Authority's highest priority flood control project," the report said.

The Authority has been pursuing funding for the park for the last two years and last year the project ranked just below the provincial funding line on the priority listing for flood control projects, Ms. Barron said.

The CVCA also requested support from the Town last year but "the town would not commit themselves either way," she said.

Flooding has become a potentially dangerous problem in Willow Park since the intentions to develop the Enterac property (Halton Hills Village) were made public.

The Georgetown South Master Drainage plan proposes to divert some of the upper Levi Creek watershed into Silver Creek, Ms. Barron said.

"This has implications on flooding on Silver Creek, specifically it could effect flooding in Willow Park," she said.

Even if the flooding problem in the Willow Park is solved, Water Resources staff are "still not satisfied that all of the Authority's concerns will be met by the Master Drainage Plan," the report says.

Small craft Harbours. A revitalization program.

This program was created with the safety of people and the protection of boats in mind. It will:

- put ongoing maintenance of existing small craft harbours and facilities on a sounder financial footing;

- re-open harbour facilities closed for safety reasons;
- repair damage caused by storms or high water levels;
- launch new services and facilities at some harbours that will meet the expanding needs of fishermen, yachtsmen and local industries.

But more importantly local harbour authorities created under this revitalization program will, with the Federal government support, give fishermen and other users a more direct role in the planning, management, operation and maintenance of their harbour.

Project proposals will be analyzed and funded on their individual merits, and announcements on funding will be made as decisions are reached.
