Artisans offering fall courses for all types

The summer's over, the kids are back to school and our thoughts turn to creativity, learning new crafts or reacquainting ourselves with familiar ones. To tempt you, the Credit Valley Artisans are once again offering a selection of popular courses.

A perennial favourite is Beginner's Weaving taught again this by Joanna Dobbin, president of the Heritage Handweavers. Students will learn to warp a loom, weave plain, huck lace and twill weaves. All supplies are included in the fee. Classes will be held at Park School, Wednesdays Sept. 30 to Dec. 2 from 7 to 9 p.m. CVA Members: $56, Non-member: $64.

New for this year is Beginner's Tapestry, being taught by Else Nielsen. Students will be taught to make their own small frame loom, the basic techniques of tapestry weaving, colour blending, composition and design for tapestry. Students will be expected to buy the material for making their own loom. Classes will be Mondays Sept. 28 to Nov. 23, 7 to 9 p.m. at Park School. CVA Members: $44.50, Non-members: $52.50.

Helene Hansmann is returning to teach Stained Glass for Beginners on Wednesdays Sept. 30 to Nov. 18, 7 to 9 p.m. at Park School. Instruction will be given for the basics of the copper foil technique. Alternative methods will be shown and participants will complete a simple light catcher and a more complicated project. All supplies are included in the course fee. CVA Members: $40, Non-members: $48.

Another new offering is Coil Pottery and Clay Sculpture for children 9 to 12 years. Esther Malone and Mary Anne Martin will introduce the basics of working with clay. The children will produce small clay pieces which will be fired by the instructors for them to take home. Emphasis will be on slab and coil techniques. Fee includes supplies and firing. Tuesdays, Sept. 29 to Nov. 17, 4:30 to 6 p.m. at Park School. Fee $35.

Returning by popular demand is Floral Styling for the Home with Daisy Harris, a well known local flower design expert. This series will deal with basic design - shapes, aids to design, principles, etc. Fresh flowers and foliage will be used and will be purchased each evening from the instructor. Cost of flowers to be a minimum of $6 each night. Thursdays Oct. 1 to 29 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Georgetown District High School. CVA Members: $25.50, Non-members: $33.

Daisy is also offering a Silk and Dried Flowers Workshop. The principles learned in the floral styling classes will be applied to designing with silk and dried materials. Also New Trend Styles will be discussed. Materials will be available for purchase each evening for a minimum of $12 per night. Two designs will be completed at each session. These are permanent arrangements to take home. Thursdays, Nov. 5 to 19 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Georgetown District High School. CVA Members: $18, Non-members: $20.50.

Back for the third year are our Christmas Floral Workshops also taught by Daisy Harris. In these workshops you will complete four Christmas decorations for your home and receive ideas for several more - Daisy just never runs out of new ideas! Fresh and artificial materials will be used and will be purchased from the instructor at a minimum cost of $25 for the four arrangements. Thursday, Dec. 3 and 10, 7 to 9:30 p.m. or Saturday, Nov. 28 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Georgetown District High School. If necessary, a third session will be offered Saturday, Dec. 5, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. CVA Members: $11.50, Non-members: $14.50.

You may register by mail to: Credit Valley Artisans, Box 162, Georgetown, Ont. L7G 4T1 or direct telephone enquiries to Else Nielsen 877-7042 or Fran Anthony 877-5856.

Cultural show taps into local talent

The Georgetown Y is tapping into all the cultural uniqueness in our community for an evening of entertainment.

An international festival is scheduled for Oct. 17 at the John Elliot Theatre starting at 7:30 p.m. It will be part of the celebrations marking the sixth birthday of the library and cultural centre.

There will be music and dance with former MPP Julian Reed acting as the Master of Ceremonies. Some of the participants include the French Canadian singers, Chinese children dancing, Scottish pipers, Irish dancers, Cloggers and Philippine dancers.

Following the performance, there will be a time to meet the performers and to sample national cuisine in the Gallery. It's an opportunity for you to enjoy the many cultures which make our community special. Funds raised will be used to add international content to YMCA programming in Halton Hills.

A draw for Peruvian tapestry (1st prize) and a leather handbag from Nicaragua will be held the same evening. Tickets for the raffle are $1 and for the performance, $5 for adults and $2 for children.

Call the Y at 877-6163 for more information. If you perhaps have a national dress and would be willing to provide food samples of your country, contact the Y office at 877-6163.

Open Door party

Open Door is celebrating its fourth birthday Thursday, Sept. 17 at 12 noon. Free coffee, pop and cake. Everyone welcome. Help open the doors for the new season.

Nowhere to hide

By DIAHANN NADEAU
This is just what I needed. A female Rambo. Who could ask for anything more? But Amy Madigan actually has the power of speech: where Sly and Arnold grunt, she talks! Mostly she lets her automatic rifle speak for her. She is a woman of few words but many weapons.

Nowhere To Hide is about Barbara Cutter, former Marine, wife of Major Rob Cutter and mother of their son Johnny. While her husband is brutally murdered in front of Johnny, Barbara is busy soldering her metal statue of a woman. (Barb isn't one for the Christmas Craft Club.)

Anyway, when the murderers try to attack her she sets one of them on fire with her soldering iron (or is it a blow torch? I'm shamefully ignorant of household weaponry.) Barb spends the rest of the movie trying to escape a bunch of maniacs out to kill her, hoping to clear her husband's name in the process.

Fall flower show

The Georgetown and District Horticultural Society's Sept. 16 meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Knox Presbyterian Church, on Main Street in Georgetown. Featured will be a Fall Flower show. The theme is Autumn Beauty.

Entries should be in by 6:30 p.m. Don't be afraid to bring "your" house plants etc.

During judging Jean Ruddell, member of Geranium society will speak on "Geraniums" and preparing your house plants for winter.

Seniors' Day

Young's IDA Pharmacy and the Milne Home Care and Prescription Centre is holding a senior citizens appreciation day Oct. 1. A free bus shuttle service will be in operation throughout the day. For more information call 873-1010.

14-year-old 'star' shines at the CNE

Jennifer Hewitt sings with experience and confidence that belies her age. And she does it with one thing in mind - to make herself and others feel good.

"I find it really enjoyable and relaxing," the 14-year-old Georgetown resident said before going on stage at the Rising Star '87 talent competition Tuesday at the Canadian National Exhibition.

"I like to make people happy and it's a lot of fun," she said.

Putting your talent and possibly your future on stage in front of a crowd of complete strangers can be an unnerving experience for a youngster used to singing in front of family and high school friends.

But while she admits the experience can be "kind of frightening," Hewitt's has a way of preparing for what can be an ordeal.

"Just concentrate and think of something you really like to enjoy... it makes you feel better."

For the talent competition, which pits singers, dancers, comedy acts and rock and roll bands against each other in five semi-final trials, Hewitt sand a Kenny Loggins - David Foster song called "Forever."

The Grade 9 student at Georgetown High School was one of several talented youngsters who competed Tuesday in the Rising Star '87 talent contest. However, Hewitt was not chosen to compete in the quarter finals, held Aug. 29 at the CNE.

Hewitt began singing in musicals and choirs while attending Stewart Town Senior Public School, where she played a lead role in Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore.

Although she plans to embark on a professional singing and acting career after completing high school, Hewitt would also like to become a psychiatrist.

It's a profession Hewitt says has many similarities with singing.

"I like to help people and listen to people's problems and make them feel good," she says, adding that through singing she also makes people feel good.
