Halloween happenings at school

By JULIE HOLMES
Herald Special

Oct. 29, school classrooms will echo with the sounds of ghosts, goblins and other creatures that go bump in the night. Parties, parades, contests and magic shows will thrill and entertain staff and students at local schools, who are eagerly anticipating the arrival of Hallowe'en.

Round, orange-faced pumpkins will appear at McKenzie Smith School, and Stewarttown Middle School. Students are invited to demonstrate their creative carving skills in pumpkin-carving contests. Winners will receive a ready-made jack-o-lantern, but, none will match the size of the pumpkin at Limehouse Public School.

The Brooks family donated a 100-pound pumpkin to Limehouse Public School. The pumpkin will be raffled and the proceeds will go to UNICEF. Other goodies will be won by lucky students in other schools too. Stewarttown Middle School is offering a contest which combines Hallowe'en with math. 482? 935? Guess the number of Hallowe'en candies in a jar. The winner will receive all of the candies and get a head start on collecting Hallowe'en treats.

White rabbits and doves will visit Park Public School Oct. 28. The Canadian Museum of Magic will present magic tricks and a slide show to the entire school at 1 p.m. in the school's auditorium. Apart from magic, the presentation will also give students ideas for costumes if they still haven't decided.

Staff and students at Joseph Gibbons Public School and McKenzie Smith School are encouraged to dress up in full costume. Kindergarten students at George Kennedy Public School and students at Robert Little Public School will parade the halls of their schools to show other classes what they will be wearing to celebrate Hallowe'en

Swimmers get their feet wet

Are you now shedding those extra Thanksgiving pounds, or rather, kilograms (for those who are metrically-minded)? Have you had turkey sandwiches for lunch for this past week? Are you sick at the sight of turkey, squash, and pumpkin pie? I am! I don't want to see another turkey until Christmas!

GDHS, though it did get off to a rather rocky start, but the team is now ready and willing to return to its winning ways of recent years. Good luck!

Lots of rock news at GDHS this week. First Class would like to announce Bruce Duggan as lead guitarist. Bruce is replacing former F.C. guitarist Randy Fascinto, who is no longer part of the group due to inner-band conflicts.

3rd Degree played recently to a very enthusiastic crowd at Hot Rocks in Brampton. The boys played two consecutive nights, on one of which they met Q107 DJ Joey Vendetta.

357 Dwyer played to a rousing success at a party last Saturday in the Glen. Fans were very appreciative and enthusiastic about the band's performance.

And last, but not least, St. Xavier is tentatively scheduled to open up for Universal Juveniles, a popular Toronto club band, for a Halloween Bash. The location has yet to be announced as of press time.

The school's stage, library, remaining music rooms, and stairwell are all nearing completion, though the library is lagging a little behind schedule.

GDHS's resident hockey hero, Dan Lane, obviously doesn't want to let go of his childhood. 'Ya see, Dan is bringing his lunch to school in his Hulk Hogan Rock'n'Roll Wrestlers lunch box. I wonder if his peanut butter is smooth or crunchy-style?

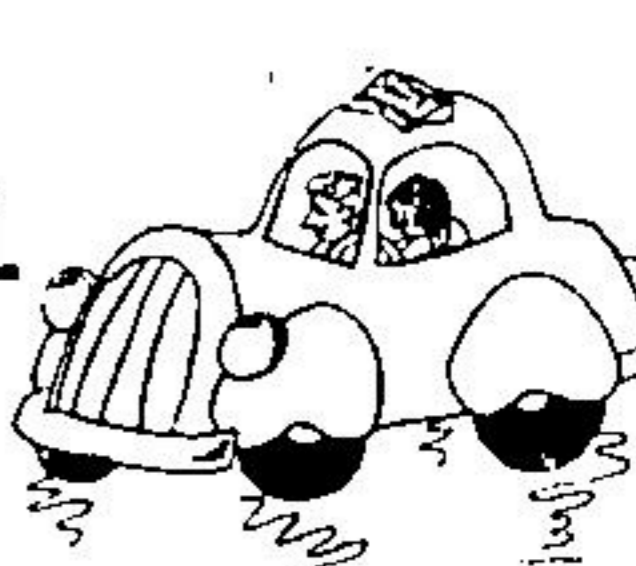

I've got a complaint to make, one which has been echoed by many other students at GDHS. I realize the source of my complaint stems from the construction presently taking place at GDHS, but the desks situated in the middle of the second storey north-south hallway are a real inconvenience. Surely the desks could be placed in a hallway which has a lesser volume of student traffic. The present location causes many delays to both staff and students who are all jammed into about 3-4 feet of walking space (this is rather difficult when 100 people are trying to pace each other on the way to class) all at one time.

As I say farewell to this week, I will, once again, leave you with a small bit of advice to ponder. "Never argue with an idiot, people may not be able to tell the difference".
