

Miraculous comeback for Bluebirds

Marshall pitches for three wins

struck out and grounded out, moving Peterson to third base. Al Moore came up next with two out and tricked on infield roller to confuse the Apple infield and reach first safely. Peterson had to hold at third. Next up was Bob Inglis, who turned out to be the hero of the day with a solid blast to left field easily scoring Peterson to give the Bluebirds the win and a 3-3 series tie.

Gerry Marshall and Bob Inglis tied for Bluebird game MVP. Jeff Haines threw an excellent game but couldn't get any help from his colleagues. He was Apple MVP.

As the 1987 World Series of Baseball went, so did the GFL playoffs. A seventh game needed to decide the winner.

The Bluebirds were still up from their three previous outings.

The Glassmen showed up but for the fourth game in a row they forgot their bats.

Big Brian MacKenzie looked on as his counterpart Gerry Marshall went to the hill for the third straight game.

Terry Haines was called to the mound for Apple. Apple threatened first with a Terry Haines walk and a single from Glen Fendley. But on base was where they stayed after Gerry retired the next batter to complete the inning. The Bluebirds went three-up, three-down in the first three innings.

Then came the "Minnesota" fourthinning.

Designated hitter Brian MacKenzie led off with a single, followed by another Bird single. Blake Shorthill took one for the team on a wild pitch on the leg to load the bases. Larry Burns blooped a two-RBI single to put the Bluebirds in flight 2-0.

In the top of the fifth, Brad Edgar hit a two out single. Gerry Marshall came to the plate and promptly scored Edgar for a 3-0 lead. Apple threatened again in the sixth with two on and one out but to no avail. Marshall promptly struck out and popped out the next two batters. All the Bluebirds needed was three outs and they came in a row in the seventh. It was finally over.

The Bluebirds pulled off a miracle. They played hard, and never gave up. Gerry Marshall won his third game in a row earning him player of the game honours, and play-off MVP for the championship round for the Birds.

Terry Haines was selected for the final MVP award for Apple doing a fine job hurling.

Terry Haines and brother Jeff were jointly selected playoff MVPs for Apple, with a special honourable mention to Barry Quail. The Bluebirds felt he gave Apple a fine performance and team leadership.

Members of the Bluebird team are Paul Sergeant, Bill Kirby (coach), Blake Shorthill, Jr. Wright, Bob Inglis, Gerry Marshall, Brian MacKenzie, Brad Miller, Brad Edgar, Larry Burns, Larry Peterson, Al Moore, Jimmy Charter, Ron Appleyard, Mark Hillier and Keith Bottomley (coach).

A long season has come to an end in the Georgetown Industrial Fastball League and no one can say it wasn't an interesting one at that with some excellent games through the season and playoffs.

As they say "the best team won", as the Bluebirds regrouped after a shaky season start to put it together and take home the hardware.

It was a job well done by all the players and coaches on their team. They proved to themselves and others that nothing is impossible.

A special thanks goes to all the teams, players, coaches, and sponsors for a great season.

Sponsors include Vern Kirby Bluebirds, Apple Auto Glass, Sea Air Oldtimers, Jim Akers/Plus Welding, Mike Adams Real Estate, Brackens Restaurant, and Station House Merchants.

Trojans humbled by Mustangs

The previously undefeated Trojans sampled their first taste of defeat in the Georgetown Ladies' Basketball League Wednesday, as they were upended by the Mustangs 66-42.

The Trojans record slips to 3-1 now, as the Mustangs boosted their season mark to 3-1, as well.

In the other GBLB tilt, the Cougars registered a convincing 82-40 victory over the Capricorns. The Cougars are now 2-2, while the Caps are winless in four starts.

The Mustangs put up a well-balanced attack to down the Trojans, as nine players shared in the scoring. Lorraine Brown led the way with 11 points, followed by Penny Wright and Diane Gardiner with 10 each. Mariann Lott clicked for nine points for the Mustangs, while Wendy Moore and Chung Kim had eight each, Kelly Cunningham had six, Carol Kovacevic added five, and Penny Cassita had two.

For the Trojans, Anita Stankus had the hot hand as she dropped in 18 points. Rebecca Caverly sank 10, while Pat Nessel had eight, June Nicholson added four, and Lou Oram had two.

A total of five players hit double digits for the Cougars in their victory. Nat Pacheco led the attack with 16 points, followed by Linda Robson with 14, Judy Thomson with 13, and Boo Tufford and Marie Smith with 12 apiece. Sue Cooke and Donna Greenwood each clicked for six, while Debbie Norman had two, and Kyr Kristensen-Irvine added one.

For the Capricorns, Kerry Gibson, Tracey York, Maureen Kerr, and Wendy Forsyth all hit for eight points. Other Cap scorers included Deb Barber with four, and Laurel Heinz and Jen Reynolds with two apiece.
