Davidson nets first goal in McNally Atom victory

The McNally Construction Minor Atom AA team faced Chinguacousy Thursday night, and not only did they skate away with a convincing 10-1 victory, but defencemen Sandy Davidson scored his first goal ever for Georgetown.

The McNally squad has never had much trouble with Chinguacousy, and this showed once again Thursday as they jumped out to a quick 4-0 lead in the first period.

David Kotsos opened the scoring assisted by Brad Spears, and then Spears tallied from Kotsos and Tim Diardichuk. As Georgetown continued to control play, Scott Lahey found the mark from David Boere, and a short time later, Scott Truman and Kevin Lumb combined for McNally's fourth marker.

Play was a little more even in the second period as Spears scored on an unassisted effort making it 5-0. The Chinguacousy fans were given something to cheer about a little later when their side scored their first goal to make it 5-1.

Georgetown goalie Steven Heinz had little chance on the play as the puck deflected from a near impossible angle. After that, though, the young puckstopper rallied to turn back all Chinguacousy attacks from there on.

In the third period, Georgetown once again took over and controlled play. At one point, with two players in the penalty box, Georgetown managed to control the tide of play, although they had only three skaters.

With three minutes remaining, McNally coach Jim Lahey took veteran defenceman Davidson and moved him up to left wing. The team took to the ice with the intentions of setting up Davidson for his first Tri County AA goal, and they worked well together as Kotsos, Spears, and Diardichuk shouted instructions to the new forward. With just 10 seconds remaining and the Georgetown fans on their feet, Davidson finally slipped one home as Spears and Diardichuk picked up assists, making the final 10-1.

The McNally Construction Minor Atoms will meet Brampton Thursday, and then travel to Kitchener on the weekend for a tournament.

"Quality of Life" is a term often used to describe the collective well being of a community. We all do our share through the payment of taxes and support of local charitable organizations to maintain the "quality of life" to which we have become accustomed.

Over the past number of years many Municipal projects have been supported through the generosity of individuals, service groups, schools, businesses and companies. Some of these projects include the building of the Library and Cultural Centre, the purchase of many creative playground structures, sports field lighting and ice resurfacers, to name a few.

These contributions have enhanced the "quality of life" in Halton Hills by making it an even more pleasant and attractive Town to live in.

A Municipal project is about to begin that will be the focal point of our community. The construction of a new Civic Centre on Maple Avenue will be a people place and a credit to our Municipality.

The Town of Halton Hills invites you individually or through your community organization or business to consider donating funds and or gifts in kind to our New Civic Centre.

In times of restraint, budgeted funds often provide only for essential services.

A Civic Centre Donations Program has been developed so contributions can be made towards specific items which are not covered under the construction funds. A list of potential items has been developed which are required for the new centre. The gift list includes such items as objects of art, trees and shrubs for the grounds, drinking fountains, park benches and much more. You may want to contribute a specific item or contribute with others toward a larger item.

While the primary reason for giving will be to contribute to our Community, there are other benefits particularly for individuals and companies. Not only may the value of your gift be claimed as a deduction for tax purposes but for every gift to the Town regardless of size you will receive appropriate recognition and personal satisfaction. Confidentiality will also be respected should that be the wish of the donor.

If you are interested in learning more about the Civic Centre Donations Program please call 877-5185 ext. 211 for more information.
