Youngsters who get ahead

manage our newspaper routes

Is your daughter or son a go-ahead youngster?
...who wants a savings account all his or her own?
...who gets fun out of making a profit?
...and likes to meet and serve the public?
...and is ready to take on the business of managing a newspaper route. (You will be surprised how well he or she will do, once given responsibility).
Get in touch with our circulation department today. New research shows what we have always known ... boys and girls who do have routes are a step ahead of others ... both in school and on the playground and in preparing themselves for life ahead and the business world.

SCHOOLS IN THE 1850's

The "common school" (as public school was then known) started in the 1830's. In 1842, the school was in a Tavern with the Tavern Keeper as Teacher. However, the school eventually was taught in 2 rooms at 64 Main St. South and in 1852 The School Board (Section 10) bought the Temperance Hall (next to where the ambulance station is now) on Guelph St. and classes were held in the basement.

Around 1844, Morris Kennedy offered the teacher a room in his house, and the Cabinet Maker made a bed and chair for the teacher so their children were educated free of charge. Otherwise, the students were charged a teaching fee.

In 1869 the school moved to Chapel Street.

Many thanks to Mark Rowe, whose help was much appreciated for the series on schools. Also Elaine Bertrand, Walter Lewis and the students of Centennial School for the use of their book "A Peek into Georgetown's Past". We appreciated Mrs. Coni's comments this week and would love to hear from you.
