180 Bills were passed

The House of Commons is presently sitting in the Second Session of the Thirty-third Parliament. During the First Session of this Parliament, legislation was passed to improve pensions, overhaul the Divorce Act, enhance agricultural programs, improve Canada's investment climate, promote equality and protect public safety.

Legislation of the Second Session build on that record. A total of 180 government bills have been passed since September 1984 including 74 in the Second Session. Some legislation from this Session is discussed here.

In the energy sector, legislation has been passed to approve the Frontier Energy Policy (C-5) and the Newfoundland Accord (C-6), to repeal the Petroleum and Gas Revenue Tax (C-17), to authorize loans for the Husky Oil Upgrader (C-29) and to establish the new Canadian Petroleum Incentive Program (C-59). Legislation for the Nova Scotia Accord (C-75) has also been introduced.

In the spirit of the government's policy regarding Crown corporations, legislation has been passed to privatize Canair (C-25) and Teleglobe Canada (C-38), and to dissolve Canagrex (C-2). This brings to 14 the number of Crown corporations sold or dissolved by this government.

Environmental protection is a top priority. Stronger measures to deal with marine pollution have been passed as part of the Canada Shipping Act (C-39). Proposed legislation to further protect the environment includes significant amendments to the National Parks Act (C-30) and a new Canadian Environment Protection Act (C-74).

Income tax measures include repayment of the Child Tax Credit (C-11), more flexible treatment for retirement savings, sales tax credits for low-income earners, special deductions for northern residents, and a minimum tax (C-23).

Amendments streamlining the pension appeal process for veterans (C-66) and improving POW survivor pensions (C-100) have been passed.

Reduced regulation of transportation will mean more competition and a wider range of services (C-18 and C-19).

Amendments to the Patent Act will stimulate the development and manufacture of new pharmaceutical products (C-22).

Proposed amendments to the Immigration Act will speed up the refugee determination process and crack down on abuse of the refugee system (C-55 and C-84).

This outlines a portion of the legislation of the Second Session of the Thirty-third Parliament. If you have questions pertaining to any legislative matter contact my constituency office at 457-7834.

Seniors need own facility

Dear Sir,
I wish to express sincere thanks to our local newspapers for their exceptionally strong support over the past months.

They project an understanding and acceptance of the needs and entitlements of our older adults.

Unfortunately those we have elected do not seem to understand! As young people are entitled to their hockey arenas, we older adults are entitled to a facility of our own - to the use of our own government grants.

My respect goes to the YMCA for their efforts involving Wrigglesworth school - good luck, but we older adults should not be expected to settle for a portion of their project.

I strongly urge those of you who agree, to make yourself heard.

You have councillors and a mayor - let them know your feelings - until we get some results.

Sincerely,
Lew Ward,
Hale Dr., Georgetown

Smoking clinic

Due to popular demand, the Halton Lung Association's Cold Turkey Smoking Cessation Clinic is back.

The Clinic will be held 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. on five consecutive evenings - March 7 to 11, at Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital, in the Bodkin Auditorium.

A 1983 study found that 60 per cent of people attending Cold Turkey over the past 10 years were successful in quitting smoking.

With increasing social pressure to quit smoking, why not take this opportunity to enrol in a free course, and kick the habit once and for all.

Pre-registration is required. Call the Lung Association at 632-8499 for more information or to register for this Christmas Seal program.

Develop a winning edge with top motivator Rose

By ANN HAUPRICH
Herald Special

Most of us have days when we feel like "born losers", either personally or professionally.

But Wednesday, April 6 doesn't have to be one of them.

In fact, that date could mark the turning point when you begin to shine more brightly at home and at work as you learn the art of "Developing the Winning Edge" - the Wysocki way!

Acclaimed one of Canada's foremost motivational speakers, Rosalie Wysocki will share her success formula with those attending the Halton Children's Aid Society's annual meeting starting with refreshments at 7:00 p.m. at River Oaks recreation centre at 2400 Sixth Line, Oakville. Members of the public are welcome and will be seated on a first come, first serve basis.

The evening promises to be entertaining as well as informative as Ms. Wysocki - who is noted for her dynamic one-liners - takes to the podium to teach you how to obtain more satisfying results from dealings with everyone from your spouse and children to your supervisors and co-workers. The speaker, who won the 1986 Canadian "Motivator of the Year" award, will pinpoint ways to develop untapped potential to help you become more personally motivated, positive and ready to take immediate action to increase personal and professional productivity.

A leader in the field of personal development, Ms. Wysocki began her career in motivation and human resource development as a business and commerce instructor 25 years ago. She went on to become highly successful with an international publishing company where she was responsible for sales and recruitment, as well as management training and development. The mother of two daughters achieved top North American awards as a sales professional, motivator and manager of people.

In 1980, she founded the Mississauga-based firm Wysocki and Associates Inc. to help corporations and associations recognize and develop what she calls their most important resource - PEOPLE!

People, she notes, are the largest, most valuable asset any organization has - motivating people to do their best is Ms. Wysocki's specialty.

Since establishing Wysocki and Associates Inc., Ms. Wysocki has conducted hundreds of workshops and seminars and presented keynote addresses at conventions and conferences for some of North America's most successful corporations. A partial list of her valued clients includes General Motors, Esso-Imperial Oil, IBM Canada, the Government of Ontario, Beatrice Foods, the Canadian Chambers of Commerce, several Boards of Education and teachers' associations.

For further information about Ms. Wysocki's appearance at the Halton

C.A.S. Annual Meeting, call Ann Hauprich at 844-8211, ext. 203.

Our water supply in great danger

Dear Sir,
I wish to make each and every resident of Halton Hills aware of the great danger on our very threshold - namely the destruction of our environment and in particular our water supply. The quality of life is more dependent on pure water than on any other factor.

How blessed we are indeed to have in this area an adequate supply of excellent water. Let us not take that for granted for it could be destroyed with a stroke of the pen. It is now ours to enjoy and our responsibility as good stewards to pass it on unpolluted to future generations of caretakers - our children and grandchildren.

This is a big concern to POWER - to protect our water and environmental resources. We are promoting the 3 Rs, recycle, reduce and reuse. Our major concern is the water.

Thank you.

P.S. The next meeting is Thursday, March 24 at the Limehouse school at 8:30 p.m.

Support for Kiss Me Kate

Dear Sir,
On behalf of Georgetown Globe Productions and myself we would like to thank you for your support of our recent production of "Kiss Me Kate".

This production gave entertainment and an enjoyable evening to nearly 3,000 theatregoers. Globe cannot produce shows of this calibre without the continued assistance from people like yourselves. We wish to again thank you.

Kind regards,
Gerry Andrew,

CAUTION: Dangerous Chemicals Stored Inside.

Environmental risks aren't only Acid Rain or Industrial Toxic Wastes. Each one of us in his or her own way has a daily impact on the quality of the environment.

It may be cigarette smoking. Or the washday detergent. The cleaners and polishes in the kitchen cupboards or the paints and solvents in the basement.

Each family home, regardless of how safe and cozy it appears, contains chemicals which should be carefully controlled.

Make sure you're doing your best to control household hazardous wastes:
• Become aware of the chemicals you use and dispose of every day.

- Educate your children as to the hazardous products in your home and store those products safely.
 - Buy only those products which can be used and disposed of safely.
 - Buy pesticides and other household chemicals only in quantities that you can actually use.
 - Help to organize special refuse collections for hazardous materials.
 - Discourage overuse of plastics and styrofoam.
 - Encourage the use of re-usable materials.
- Do your part to make sure the world is safer for yourself. That way we'll all benefit.
