CHURCHES IN THE 1850's
ST. GEORGES ANGLICAN CHURCH

In 1849, George Kennedy signed his name and his wife Sarah put her mark on a deed conveying 1 acre of land to the Bishop of Toronto for a church and burial ground. This land is where St. Georges is located now, on Highway 7 next to the high school.

A large frame church was erected with a tower and spires and square pews to accommodate 200 people. It is thought to have been erected in 1855. It's first minister was Thoms W. Marsh who lived in Norval and he was appointed to Norval, Hornby, Stewarttown and Georgetown. In 1856, Rev. Marsh, on a steamer bound for Liverpool, mistakenly drank disinfectant and died. In the present church, a marble tablet erected by his former parishioners still remains.

"St. George's Anglican Church - A History" by Rev. Richard Ruggle was used as a reference.
