Winning Jills

The Halton Hills Jills Gymnastics Club raised $500 for new equipment through their recent 10th Annual Super Sport Lottery, which will certainly help when their March 12 registration begins. Top fundraisers in the venture were, from left, Kort Aker (second); Tamara Gilmore (first); and Kristy Alain-Bludd (third). The club thanks Belamy's Restaurant for providing them with prizes of gift certificates.

Win, lose an and draw

NHS face round robin

If variety is the spice of life, the North Halton Sports Major Atom "AA" hockey team should be pleased with a win, loss and tie, this past week.

Georgetown opened the week's action against Dundas at Alcott Arena on Thursday night. The Major Atoms faced an uphill battle throughout the game, finally taking a 6-5 lead with just over a minute left in the contest. A late Dundas goal resulted in the 6-6 deadlock.

Duane Erier, Doug Sheppard and David Bouskill scored two goals each to lead the North Halton Sports team. Erier, Bouskill, Tom Dembie, Glennis Markou and Stephen Onoprijenko earned assists for Georgetown.

On Saturday at Alcott Arena the locals showed the effects of the sickness that several teammates were suffering from. The North Halton Sports squad could not beat the Burlington goaltender until the visitors had established a 4-0 lead. Goals by Onoprijenko, Gavin Glaser and Jamie Stephenson proved too little, too late, as the game ended with Georgetown storming the Burlington goal and the score 4-3. Erier was credited with the lone Major Atom assist in the game.

Kovacevic clicks for 34 pts.

The Mustangs followed the 34-point performance of Carol Kovacevic as they whipped the Capricorns 102-52 in Georgetown Ladies Basketball League action last Wednesday.

It was the second consecutive week the Capricorns' opponents have scored in the triple-digits, after they took a 100-50 drubbing the previous week.

In the other scheduled match-up between the two teams fighting it out for second place, the Trojans downed the Cougars 91-62, as Anita Stankus led the way for the winners with 28 points.

Aside from Kovacevic's offensive performance against the Caps, Wendy Forsyth had six, and Nat Chung Kim had 24 points for the Mustangs, while Diane Gardiner had 18, Penny Wright chipped in with 14, and Mariann Lott had 12.

For the Caps, Maureen Kerr had 20, while Marie Smith added 16, Kerry Gibson added eight, Sandra Couzens had six, and Donna Greenwood contributed two.

Supporting Stankus' 28-point performance in the other match-up, the Trojans received 24 points from Corrine Buisman, 16 from Pat Nessel, and 12 from June Nicholson. Also contributing were Diaga Zelek with eight, Mary Kelly with three, and Kyra Kristensen-Irvine with two.

Linda Robson paced the Cougars' attack with 23, while Kelly Forsyth had 10, Boo Tufford added nine, Wendy Forsyth had six, and Nat Pacheco had four.

First Division Hustlers clinched the Georgetown Industrial Darts League championship, by winning their first two games over Exports in action last week.

The remainder of the season became a bit of an anti-climax. This rare defeat meant little in the end, however, that's not to take away anything from the Exports who played well. Hustlers just do not give anything away without a fight. Evidence is the high scores of George Gaskill, Pete Pickering and John Malby all hitting for 140.

In second place at the moment, are Golden Flights and they also went down 4-5 to their opponents, Ensigns, who are close challengers. Ensigns came from behind to take the last three games in a row for the match. Laurie Hopkins had four starts and two finishes to take 'Flights honors for the evening. One of his opens was 108.

Westenders ran up the highest win of the night in taming the Panthers. Jim Carter of the Panthers scored a high 120 and Ed Paterson went three better. Panthers' Jack Hamilton had to leave early in the proceedings.

Independents also ran up a 7-2 result in extinguishing the Firemen. Marty Glaude opened with 132 and the lads won that game before dropping off in form. For Independents, Jim Franks, Peter Buckley and Tom Elliott all scored over the 'ton'.

A meeting of the executive put the rules into operation in declaring Eliminators "eliminated" from further play. The team has failed to show for more than two weeks in succession and all points gained and lost will be cancelled for the second teams in opposition. This could have an effect on the standings, though the end of the month sees two fun tourneys held at the Legion. The Ladies Auxiliary will host a mixed tourney on the lines of a previous couple earlier this year. The last Saturday of the month has the leagues hosting the annual four-women, four-men team tourney. The entry fees are small enough to let anyone play both. Why not?

The amended industrial league tables are now ready - and here they are:

STANDINGS (Amended)

First Division
	W	L	PTS.
Hustlers	23	3	145
Golden Flights	15	11	117
Westenders	15	11	111
Exports	15	11	104
Ensigns	12	14	110
Independents	7	19	90
Panthers	11	15	87
Firemen	4	22	59
Second Division
Snowjacks	20	3	115
High Rollers	14	8	104
Bulldogs	13	10	94
Inter County	10	12	85
Taxmen	6	16	74
Aces	8	14	73
Bandits	7	15	73

From the standings it can be seen that Snowjacks and Bulldogs have played one game more due to the elimination of the Eliminators and the other teams will catch up over the next two weeks. With High Rollers having 16 games to Snowjacks' nine, the 11-game gap does not quite seem to be so formidable.

It will be a tall order for Rollers to take first place from Snowjacks on the post. It can be done, and 'jacks will have to take a few games from Inter County to lift the Second Division championship.
