Bow hunters workshops

Bow Hunters can improve their skills and learn how to hunt safely and ethically during the Bow Hunter's Workshop, offered twice this year at Cold Creek Conservation Area, near Bolton.

The two-day workshop is offered on the weekends of May 14-15 and August 20-21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The fee is $30, which includes lunch on Saturday only.

Using a bow for hunting game requires special skills, but offers a unique satisfaction to those who can meet the challenge. The format of the workshop was established by the International Bowhunting Education Foundation. Topics covered include equipment selection and tuning, fundamentals of bow shooting, shooting technique, Ontario bow hunting regulations, bow hunter ethics, game information, and enforcement and safety.

Participants will also have an opportunity to practise and improve their skills on Cold Creek's archery range. Each of the two workshop dates is limited to a maximum of 25 participants, so register early by calling (416) 661-6600 or visiting Cold Creek.

If you have your own equipment, please plan to bring it on the second day of the course.

Cold Creek Conservation Area is midway between Bolton and Nobleton. It is located on Concession Road 11, three kilometres north of the King Road.

New GIFL executive

The Georgetown Industrial Football League will hurl its inaugural pitch for the 1988 campaign on May 25.

The league will feature five teams this year that will each play a 20-game regular season schedule, meeting each other club five times.

This year's squads include Bluebirds, Mike Adams, Apple, Exchange and Howells.

A new executive was announced earlier this week with Jim Hall assuming the president's post and Terry Haines serving as vice-president. Glenn Sproule will handle the secretary-treasurer duties.

Team reps include Paul Mastalerz of Apple, John Sargent for Howells, Bluebirds' Bill Kirby, Gary Malby with Exchange and Bob McCandless for Mike Adams.
