Students stage fine musical

The AHS musical production "Anne of Green Gables" produced a tremendous turnout. From the laughter in the crowds everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

We congratulate and thank all members of the play for a job well done!

On Thursday, May 19, AHS is holding another one of our exciting dances. This month's dance is a video dance and runs 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. and it's guaranteed to be an exciting evening.

Also on Thursday, May 19, AHS is holding the Miss Acton High pageant. This event will be held in the cafeteria at 3 p.m. Tickets cost $1. The lucky winner of this event will be $150 richer. Good luck to all!

There are less than 40 tickets left to purchase for this year's athletic banquet and dance to be held May 26. Tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis. Get your ticket while there are some still remaining. Tickets may be purchased from Mr. Andrews at the physical education office.

SPORTS

Congratulations to all those who competed in last Friday's Hallon track and field meet. Special merit should be given to Marla Brillinger and Greg Winlarz, who both turned in great performances. Marla qualified for GHAC with a second in the 200 metres and a fifth in the 800. Greg placed fourth in both the discus and the high jump.

Last Tuesday the Jr. rugby team was victorious against M.M. Robinson by a score of 18-10, with tries by Sean Jeffreys, Gareth Marks and two by Sean Davis. Kevin Preistman made a convert.

Congratulations to the Jr. rugby team!

Anne Shirley, played by Lisa Nikifork, helped Marilla Cuthbert with the dinner table. The Acton High School students put on the dramatic performance of Anne of Green Gables May 12 to 14.

Chaotic parking problems

While being such a petty little thing, the hot topic of conversation this week at GDHS was the student/teacher parking issue.

Sick of seeing students "take" their spots, teachers were out in force Monday through Wednesday, taking license plate numbers and in some cases "lecturing" students on how "they have found themselves on the wrong side of the school."

But what a ridiculous suggestion! Because, at the present moment, parking is a bit chaotic. Some students are parking in a spot where I have yet to see teachers park. While only a few cars park in this "teachers" lot, the idea of sharing does not sit well with certain teachers. Even though sharing appears to be the only logical choice, apart from building a parking complex where the football field is now. Yet teachers adamantly argue that they feel they should have a spot when they return from lunch. Well fine, reserve them a spot. I'm sure you would find spots left over even after all the teachers had a spot.

Meanwhile, teachers still park in the student parking lot. Once again a clear double standard is noticed, such as the time smoking was banned from the school, except in the staffroom.

Slowly but surely, a wall is being built, dividing teachers from students. When really, students should be able to strike up a conversation with a teacher anytime.

Turning to more interesting school news, last week saw the high school hold its student council elections. Although a few positions claimed to be a hotly-contested battle, I failed to see any slandering posters.

However, the campaigns were run efficiently and smoothly. This year only had three of the five positions voted upon, due to the acclamation of the presidency and junior vice-presidency. Filling those roles next year will be Vicki Hughes and Mandie Beecham, respectively. The position of senior vice-president was narrowly won by Bonnie Clark, while treasurer was filled by Janelle Lewis. Finally congratulations also go to the new secretary, Gary Robinson. The elections aren't over yet, as grade reps still have to be decided.

Although most feel the council doesn't accomplish much of importance, here is the students' chance to see that it does. For once, let us see a lot of students get involved in the school.

This week also saw the Jazz Choir and Stage Hand fly out to Calgary for five days of competitions. Also the highly acclaimed GDHS Press came out. Slowly but surely, the monthly publication has grown to be a reliable source telling students the goings-on of their school.

Once again, Rebel athletes had a busy week. As playoffs approach, the softball, soccer and baseball teams look to be in good shape. It is a case of 'wait till next year for our 'ruggers'.
