

"IT WILL BE GREAT FOR 88"

There's something for everyone!

That heading may be a cliché, but it's the best description for the activities and entertainment planned for the 1988 Georgetown Fall Fair.

A Fair should be a showcase for local talent and yours is no exception.

One of the groups featured this year is the Centennial Alumni Choir, made up of graduates of Centennial Middle School. Each member of the Choir possesses a desire to share in the making of choral harmony and the resulting fellowship provided by such a musical environment. The choir's concert repertoire spans Broadway selections, standards and the hits of today. There is a special feeling of pride when a musical group is made up of friends and neighbours. This year's Fair has several such groups. Councillor John McDonald's popular band "Sound Investment" is back with hits of the '60s and '70s. "St. Xavier" is made up of high school students and has made a name for itself in the past year with a combination of heavy metal tunes and slower bluesy songs.

"Smalltown Bringdown" is a new dance oriented rock 'n roll band also made up of high school students with a special sound that will appeal to a wide range of people.

Talents of another sort will be on display in the craft tent. Gail Spence of the Hobby Horse will once again be showing her sewing and quilted items. Punch embroidery, stuffed animals and paper tole will be shown by C.J. Crafts and Bernice Crafts respectively. Jewelry and accessories by Jewel in the Rough should be another interesting booth. All tables in the craft tent will have items for sale to the public.

What's a Fair without cars and machinery? Park Lincoln-Mercury will supply the cars and Penson Farm Equipment the machinery to satisfy machine lovers of all ages.

There will also be a fashion show by Elizabeth Fashions for high fashion-lovers, Kinsmen Girls Softball playoffs for baseball-lovers and Old MacDonald's Farm for animal-lovers. Get the picture? Something for everyone!

We haven't forgotten the greatest love of all at a Fair - food.

Many local and area groups will be providing the mouth-watering sights and smells to lure you to their booths. The Georgetown Raiders will be serving up hamburgers and hot dogs along with coffee or pop. Or choose Bratwurst on a Bun at the Lions Club booth. St. Andrew's will once again be tempting you with a vast selection of homemade pies and coffee. Fresh hot fries from Mr. Spud, Frenches Fries or Golden Fryer are a perennial favorite for many. The McGibbon Hotel will also be serving a buffet in their refreshment garden.

Entertainment and activities for the youngsters run almost non stop throughout the weekend. The Georgetown Lioness Fabulous Fun Tent gives the kids a chance to win prizes at such games as the fish pond or bean bag toss.

Of course a Fair wouldn't be complete without a midway. Conklin Shows have rides to appeal to kids of all ages, including the tilt a whirl, the spinner, the ferris wheel and the giant slide to name a few.

It will be Great in 88 - See you at the Fair!

GEORGETOWN FARM OLYMPICS

Warm up your muscles for the 1988 Georgetown Farm Olympics. This is a brief explanation of the events in this fun filled and NOT TOO SERIOUS COMPETITION.

First six (6) teams to register will compete. The team will consist of:
 -mode of transportation of your choice (at discretion of the judges).
 -maximum of 7 members from your organization

- The teams:
- 1) 4 members will carry 4 buckets full of water about 30 feet and pass them onto your mode of transportation (at end of competition you will also be judged on the amount of water remaining in the buckets).
 - 2) At the next station 4 members will be blindfolded and guided by a fifth team member and they will make a four bale stook - it must stand for 7 seconds and are to be left standing.
 - 3) Next, 1 member is to tie a bag of grain and then load it on to the mode of transportation. It must remain tied for the duration of the event.
 - 4) At the next station the corn is to be tied into a sheath so that it stands for 7 seconds.
 - 5) The following station is nail driving - each member is to drive a 4 inch spike into a log - it must go all the way in before the next person can begin. If you bend a nail you can start another. When all 7 members have completed, you will pick up everything and move to the next station.
 - 6) Log sawing (Fun) with cross cut saws (some sharp, some not so sharp) one person will not cut. Each pair will cut 2 cookies from the log while the others steady the log. Load up the cookies and

- 7) upon completion, all members will manipulate their team and mode of transportation through a short obstacle course... and return to the stooked bales where the team will
 - 8) take the plank and two bales and make a walkway and two members of the team will carry two pails of water over the walkway
 - 9) Each member carrying the pails of water will set them down and toss two Cow Chips each into a hoop (amount of cow chip in hoop is judged).
 - 10) Each team will proceed to a pen and pick out one goat for milking and take it to the milking area. (2 minute time limit). Once complete goat is to be returned to pen.
- The entire event will be judged by a stopwatch. Each team will be accompanied by an official judge who will determine the completion of each event. There will be 10 second time penalties for leaving before a station is fully completed.

The Sheath of Corn and bale stook will be judged on a scale of 30 for neatness. The equivalent number of seconds will be deducted from your total time.

The bag of grain must remain tied. If any grain is spilled, the team will receive a 30 second penalty.

The total inches of water remaining in the buckets will be deducted from the total time in seconds.

The total inches of milk in the cup will be added in seconds to your total.

Come prepared to have fun. Entry fee is $25.00 and includes admission for 7 team members to the event.

Winner will donate prize money to charity of their choice. Entry fee is to be paid prior to Sunday, September 10th. Contact Al Cook, 877-5753 or Bob Malcolmson, 877-2972.
