Show highlights the country look

Colorful braided rugs on the kitchen floor, the pine cannonball bed in a bedroom, a quilt in blue and white, the stencilled border along a wall. These are ingredients of the 'Country' look, a decorating theme whose popularity continues to grow each year. Country's roots are in the folk art and domestic crafts of the pioneer folk of the nineteenth century. These people had a happy knack for combining simple materials, color and craftsmanship in ways which created an atmosphere both warm and pleasing to the eye.

Here in the eighties, decorators seeking the 'Country' look turn to craftspeople skilled in making reproductions of nineteenth century furnishings and decorative items. It is little wonder then that thousands of people now look forward each September to "Home Sweet Home", still Canada's first show and sale devoted to country decorating and furnishings.

This unique show, taking place in Elora, Ontario, features about fifty outstanding folk artisans who will offer for sale fine, handmade reproductions of early Canadian furnishings and decorative items.

Everything in the show will be made by hand from the same materials and designs as those used in the originals. Wendy Gadsden, show promoter, explains, "Home Sweet Home is very much aimed at the decorator with 'Country' tastes but I feel it is important to present work by craftspeople who value the artistry, detail and craftsmanship of the original country pieces. So you won't find any factory-made or Taiwan copies here. Home Sweet Home is presented by craftspeople who are committed to excellence in reproductions."

A special attraction at this year's show will be the presence of the 10th Louisiana Regiment, a modern-day re-enactment of an 1860s Civil War regiment. This group of about 20 men and some of their wives and children will re-enact an American Civil War encampment in the park adjacent to the Elora arena on Saturday, Sept. 17. The 10th Louisiana Regiment will demonstrate military drills, black powder shooting, and will present a realistic display of camp life as it was during the Civil War. Inspired by the fact that a number of Canadian men served in the original 10th Louisiana Regiment, this group of Civil War buffs from southern Ontario now demonstrate at fairs and exhibitions in Canada and the United States. Visitors to Home Sweet Home will be able to watch the demonstrations and chat with the 'soldiers' on Saturday, Sept. 17 at the show.

Home Sweet Home takes place on the weekend of Sept. 17 and 18, 1988. The show is open on Saturday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. and on Sunday, Sept. 18 from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Elora Community Centre, David Street, Elora. Admission is $4. Elora is about 15 minutes north of Guelph, just west of Highway 6.
