ST. JOSEPH'S ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Jesuits of Guelph held services in homes until a church was erected in 1857 at Little Dublin, where the First Line crosses 25 Sideroad. Their growing congregation decided, in 1884, to purchase the empty Congregational Methodist Church on Church Street in Acton. Georgetown was a mission of Acton until 1956. The old church at Dublin was dismantled, the pews being given to Rockwood.

Many thanks to Mark Rowe, President of Esqueing Historical Society, who wrote this article.
