

Board of Ed. recommends candidates

The Halton Board of Education has recommended two candidates for appointment to the local public library board.

According to trustee Peter Abbott, Chairman of the Library and Awards Committee, the school board is approached every three years by the municipality to choose possible candidates.

Advertisements were placed in local newspapers and interviews were held by the board's Library and Awards Committee.

The school board recommended former Georgetown resident and bank officer Joyce Mackie and Guelph French Immersion teacher Francine McGregor to serve on the library board.

Mrs. Mackie served on the Georgetown Hospital Board and has been "an active participant" in community events.

Mrs. McGregor is a graduate of Ecole Normale Laval and the University of Toronto. She has participated in various community relations groups.

The Halton Board of Education announced Dec. 8 that they will forward the ladies' resumes to the Public Library Board.

Brampton West WI holds festive meeting

NORVAL-Brampton West Women's Institute met at the home of the president, Mae Dixon, at noon Dec. 6, for the Christmas luncheon meeting.

To greet the members, the president read a poem by Edgar Guest entitled, A Friendly Greeting. Following the Ode, Collect, The Lord's Prayer and the Institute Grace, the members enjoyed a potluck luncheon followed by the afternoon program.

Mary Garbutt recorded the meeting. Fifteen members and four visitors answered the roll call by exchanging a signed Christmas card to become a mystery friend and recognize the special events of the mystery friend during the coming year.

Several members reported on the hours of volunteer work they had done in the past month.

Members were advised that the Agricultural Museum at Milton would appreciate china in the Blue Willow pattern.

Betty Moore, a 4-H leader for 20 years, told of a new event, Reach for the Top, at the Royal Winter Fair for semi-finalists from 12 regions. The group from Peel placed third in the finals and were the host group as well.

Verna Marshall, violinist and Mabel Nedderly, pianist entertained with lively numbers, such as The Village Carousel and Scenes from Finland Woods and Carols.

Margaret McClure spoke of heart warming Christmas memories from childhood to which many of us could relate.

Doris Sharpe accompanied the singing of several carols to close an enjoyable meeting.

Esther McClure gave the courtesies. Dorothy Ostrander will be hostess for the Family and Consumer Affairs meeting Jan. 10 at 1:30 p.m. Speaker will be Dr. Diane Bridges, Chaplain at Peel Memorial Hospital. Visitors are welcome.

High honor

A special award was presented to 756 Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets recently. The squadron won the Initiative Exercises Competition trophy which was instituted in 1972, to be competed for annually by squadrons from Ontario and the United States. This is the first time the local squadron has won the much-coveted trophy. Seen here for the trophy presentation are, from left, Major Squires of 758 Squadron; Flt. Sgt. Chris Glencoe of 756 Squadron; and Squadron Lt. Moore. (Photo submitted)

Choirs combine efforts

NORVAL-The combined choirs of Norval Presbyterian, Union Presbyterian and Ballinafad United presented the Cantata, Joy to the World in Norval Presbyterian Church Sunday evening Dec. 11.

Rev. Angus Sutherland welcomed the guests and offered prayer. The congregation and choir sang The First Noel.

Marilyn Micklethwaite, organist and choir director at Norval accompanied as pianist Mrs. Alyson Arsenault, choir director at Ballinafad directed the choirs.

Soloists were Meg Hostie, Karen Carney, John Henderson and Angus Sutherland. Brian Arsenault gave the readings.

The evening closed with the carol Gloria and prayer by Rev. Angus Sutherland. Refreshments were served and a time of fellowship followed.

For those unable to attend at Norval there is another opportunity when a repeat performance will be held at Ballinafad United Church, Sunday evening, Dec. 18 at 8 p.m.

Christmas dinner

By KAY WILSON
Norval Correspondent

NORVAL-Pinegrove Community club enjoyed their Christmas dinner at the Chateau Restaurant on Dec. 5. Following the dinner, 30 members and friends enjoyed the spacious showroom of Webbs Flowers, when seven tables of euchre were played, among the flowers. Following a gift exchange from the decorated tree everyone sang Happy Birthday to Keith Webb, and enjoyed birthday cake and coffee. The evening was arranged by Ruth Thomson.

Members entertained

NORVAL-Hardy and Ruby Barnhill of Brampton entertained members of the Norval Women's Institute, and their husbands on Dec. 10.

A video was interesting to watch of the Christmas WI meeting held 10 days before, with carols sung by Glenn Laidlaw accompanied by June Fries. These were interspersed by readings, relating to the Christmas Story, including "Born in Bethlehem" and "The Wise Men." Following a game of euchre, a beautiful Christmas table was set up in the red and green theme, with salads and desserts.

An exchange of gifts finished off an enjoyable evening, and president Norine Van Leeuwen expressed thanks to the Barnhills on behalf of all present.

Sympathy Sent

NORVAL-Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of David Whaley of Campbell River, B.C., who passed away on Dec. 6. Dear father of Jennifer and Jason Whaley. Dearest son of Ray and Bernice Whaley of RR2, Norval, and brother of Gary, Dennis, Dianne McKee, and Donna Rae. Dear grandson of Mrs. Lena Whaley, and dear friend of Mary Fyntyne.

A private service was held at Huttonville United Church Friday at 7 p.m. Rev. Walter Ridley conducted the service.

Visit made

NORVAL-Members of Norval United Church U.C.W. Unit 1, visited with Eunice and Guy Wilson, at the Halton Manor, on Dec. 6. A private room was provided to visit over a tea hour.

Couples meet

NORVAL-Norval United Church Couples Club met at the church on Dec. 7 for a potluck supper. Glenn Laidlaw and June Fries led in carol singing. The gift exchange was organized by Marg Clarkson and Bob Flindall, and a social hour followed.
