Colman starred in 'Random Harvest'

By Dick Kleiner

Q. When I was very young, I saw a movie with Ronald Colman, in which he played a shell-shocked World War I soldier who lost his memory. Years later, he returned to his wife (Greer Garson), who had waited for him all those years. Can you tell me the name of that movie? When was it made? — Mrs. N.K., Roscommon, Mich.

A. That was the marvelous "Random Harvest," from the James Hilton novel. It was directed by Mervyn LeRoy, released in '42.

ASK DICK KLEINER

DICK KLEINER

Q. There was a recent program regarding Jim Henson of The Muppets, and on it they gave the name of his wife. But it was given so swiftly I didn't catch it. I am wondering if you can give me her maiden name. My reason for asking is that one of my cousins went to Hollywood and married a puppeteer and I have always wondered if Jim Henson was that man. — Mrs. R.M.C., Fort Smith, Ar.

A. If your cousin's name was Jane Anne Nebel, bingo! Otherwise, better luck next time.

Q. Why do the networks keep running the same old stuff (Lucille Ball's "I Love Lucy," etc.) when there are so many funny ones out there. We all need a good laugh once in a while, so let's hear it for "Hot L. Baltimore." — D.P., Chicago, Ill.

Jim Henson Gene Kelly

A. The same old stuff keeps getting the same old good ratings, and that's what governs television. If "Hot L. Baltimore" got the ratings, it would be aired, but it doesn't, so it isn't.

Q. I am a senior citizen and I seem to remember a "Singing in the Rain" movie before the one with Gene Kelly. Can you tell me if my memory serves me right and, if so, who were the stars of that movie and when was it made? — Mrs. O.L.P., Houston, Texas.

A. There was no movie by that name until the Gene Kelly one was released in '52.

Q. Please settle an argument between my best friend and myself. She insists that Martin Milner and George Maharis were the only two men in the Corvette on "Route 66." I say somewhere along the road Maharis was replaced by Glen Corbett, or the other way around. Please tell Miss Right that for once I am right. — B., Kentwood, Mich.

A. Miss Right, you are wrong. Maharis was in the Corvette for only three of the four years the show was on ('60-'63) and then was forced out by illness. Corbett took over for the '64, and final, season.

Q. Is Shirley Jones married to a black singer? I say I saw him on a music video, but my friend says she is married to a movie producer. Who is right? — Mrs. D.T., Syracuse, Ind.

A. Shirley is Mrs. Marty Ingels. Her husband is white, an ex-comic who is now an agent of sorts.

Q. What was the movie with Van Heflin as President Andrew Johnson? — L.P., Westford, Mass.

A. That was "Tennessee Johnson," with Heflin, Lionel Barrymore and Ruth Hussey, released in '42.

Canada Post Corporation

Our promise to Rural Canadians — signed, sealed and delivered

A recent independent study shows that 97% of our customers surveyed in rural areas, where retail postal services are now provided by local businesses, are fully satisfied with their postal services. Just as we promised.

Moreover, 92% are satisfied with their mail delivery, while 91% believe delivery to be as convenient or more convenient than before.

The message comes across loud and clear: an overwhelming majority of Rural Canadians surveyed believe that the post office is moving in the right direction. Furthermore, they consider that enlisting the help of local businesses helps to provide better services.

Our next step: Free lockbox service

Beginning January 3, 1989, customers who depend on lockboxes as their primary means of delivery will no longer have to pay a lockbox service fee. Charges will cease to apply for these customers when their lockboxes come up for renewal.

As part of our ongoing commitment to provide better services to you we will be mailing full details to you in the near future.
