Planning for women

For many Canadian women, retirement and financial concerns are something to consider... tomorrow. These same women are confident in the belief that when they reach 65 years, they will be happy and financially comfortable. Unfortunately, the grim statistics prove that a large number of women will not be comfortably well off and retirement may be anything but happy.

At the upcoming March 7 meeting of the University Women's Club of Georgetown, guest speaker Kim Ball will discuss the subject of financial security for women with a particular emphasis on planning for retirement. Her witty and informative style had made her a sought-after speaker and she is back in Georgetown by popular demand.

Ms. Ball is with the Women's Financial Planning Centre in Toronto. Her job takes her across the country where she offers Canadian women a variety of financial seminars. As well, she has appeared on CFTO-TV's "Lifetime" program and on "Moneysworth," a TV Ontario production.

The presentation will be held at Centennial School and begins at 8:30 p.m. The public is encouraged to attend. Come out and be financially-prepared for the future.

Clarification

Some readers may have been misled by a passage in a story on Page 2 of the Feb. 22 edition of The Herald, about the naming of Tom Ramautarsingh as Georgetown's Citizen of the Year.

Mr. Ramautarsingh served as vice-chairman for the committee which organized the Georgetown High School's centennial celebrations.
