

Taking the man

A Richmond Hill skater is ridden out along the boards by a pair of Georgetown skaters during OMHA second round bantam "AA" playdown action at Alcott Arena last Friday night. The local M and M Pro Sporters lost the opening game of the series, 5-3 in overtime, despite leading by a 3-2 score with less than a minute remaining in the third period. Richmond Hill took game two of the best-of-five series with a 4-2 win at home on Saturday. The two teams played last night in Richmond Hill (no report by press time) and game four, if necessary, shifts back to Alcott on Thursday night. (Herald photo)

Five silvers for locals

Silver was a popular medal for members of the Georgetown Figure Skating Club at a recent inter-club competition in Streetsville.

Georgetown took five second place finishes at Streetsville to go along with one first and a third.

Paul Johnson had a successful outing for the locals, placing first in the men's senior bronze solo dance, second in the men's juvenile standings and sharing second spot with Jennifer Cook in the senior bronze mixed dance.

Peter Johnson took third in men's pre-junior and also combined with Liesha MacLeod to take second in the junior bronze mixed dance.

Katie Cochrane took second in the ladies pre-novice division, Michael Fedchyshyn was second in men's preliminary and Carole Burnes finished third in ladies junior silver solo dance.

Prior to the Streetsville meet, these Georgetown skaters successfully passed the following Skate Canada tests: Louise Hutton, preliminary figure; Lesley Watson and Kathryn Richardson, first figure; Kelli Peaker, third figure; Erin Longworth, Rachel Baker and Robin Lynn Ransom, Dutch waltz; Erin Longworth and Michael Fedchyshyn, canasta tango; Kristin McBride, swing dance; Lesley Watson, ten fox; Christina Dawson, fiesta tango; Jody Johnson, Domo Kovacevic, Leisha MacLeod and Amber Lyons, willow waltz; Yvonne Moore, fourteen step; Amy Longworth, European waltz; Jennifer Cook, foxtrot.

Katie Cochrane completed her high test day in junior silver freeskate and Carrie Morris and Katherine Johnson both completed the rocker foxtrot.

Chiefs on warpath in playoffs

The Georgetown Domtar Packaging Minor Peeewees "AA" Chiefs won their third straight Tri-County playoff game last week by defeating Oakville by a score of 5-2.

Host Oakville took an early 1-0 lead but the Chiefs wasted little time in gaining the lead. Blaine McCauley tied the game after taking a pass from Doug Sheppard. Sheppard then gave Georgetown the lead as he scored from McCauley and Stephen Onoprijenko. Goaltender Chad Hughes was particularly sharp as the Domtar Packaging squad played much of the middle part of the game shorthanded.

The Major Peeewees took control of the game with two quick third period goals. Jamie Stephenson won a face off and slid the puck to Mark Aldridge who wasted no time in beating the Oakville goaltender. Then Duane Ertler took the rebound of a Gavin Glaser shot off the backboards and buried a shot. Duke Bouskill, on a fine pass from Sheppard, closed out the Georgetown scoring.

Mashinter hot in loss

By RON KERSLAKE
Herald Special

The Star Fuels Minor Atoms were victims of a hot Milton club and Oakville Rangers last week in Tricounty playoffs. Milton rolled up a 6-2 win and then Oakville had to be tough to win 7-5.

In Milton, it was goalmouth pressure that put the Fuelers on the board as Pete Mashinter got the puck in close and Gary McNiven scored. Later Chris Corney stole the puck and Pete made no mistake on the breakaway opportunity.

Pete Mashinter was the star of the game in Oakville as he scored the first three goals. Jamie Briggs and Chris Corney were in on the first one which was a double shorthander as the Fuelers were two men short at the time. Andrew Craig was guilty of goaltending robbery on the Oakville shooters and then Pete got his second goal from Keith Hunt. Pete scored his third one while down on his knees in front of the net. Jamie Briggs had been working hard to generate some offence and that paid off as he assisted Pete on that goal to bring the score to 4-3.

Ryan Taylor has been playing good two way hockey and his take charge efforts paid off as he set up Chris Goodhew for a goal. Then to finish off the scoring, Pete Mashinter worked from behind the net after taking it from Chris Corney and setting up Robbie Pilgrim for the score.

Bridge winners

Ties were the order of the day as duplicate bridge play at Georgetown Legion on Mar. 6 produced a pair of knots.

George Farrow and Norma Maynard were tied for top spot at the end of the day's play while second-place finisher Mike Larusso was sandwiched between a third-place tie that saw Earl Ryder and Harry Arbic share the position.

Local bowlers

'Master Bowler' Andy Parent, for the second year in a row, led a team of bantam bowlers to the Provincial Finals of the Master-Bantam Championships. This time around though instead of besting the nearest opposition by 367 pins, the team finished leading by 163 pins. Andy Parent's bantams were Geoffrey Beauparlant with a score of 559 (103 pins better than his average) and Melissa McGugan with 461 and a plus 83. The second place was taken by the team of 'Master Bowler' Brent Dance from Acton. Only 28 pins behind for third place trophies came the team of Gord Lane - bantams Nancy Larocque and Martin Johnston.

Chris Gostlin captured the High Triple Flat score trophy along with Tanya Martin for the girls. The High Three Pins-Over-Average trophies were taken by Paul Larocque and Monica Beauparlant. The High Single P.O.A. trophies were awarded to Chris Wilkes and Lynn Dales.
