

Pacemakers take over in GLBL standings

They say patience is a virtue and the members of the Georgetown Ladies Basketball League's Pacemakers must be true believers of that time-honored adage.

After breathing down the necks of the Blue Zone all season long the Pacemakers finally moved a half game ahead of their rivals to take over first place in recent GLBL standings.

Pacemakers got a little help from their "friends" in taking over first as the cellar-dwelling Steroids pulled a major upset on Mar. 22 by toppling the Blue Zone, 53-45. Combined with the Pacemakers own 66-44 drubbing of the Celtics, that was enough to change the first place occupancy.

In the other GLBL contest on Mar. 22, the California Raisins edged the 76ers, 52-48.

Penny Wright was the lead gunner for the Steroids in their upset win, hooping 18 points, while Lorraine Capreol had 12 and Lisa Allen had 10. For the Zone, Sandy Brownridge piled up 19 points.

Pacemakers were led by the 24-point performance of Jenny Smith while steady Anita Stankus and Lynn McKenzie each had 12. Celts got 13 points from Michelle Miehm and 12 from Marie Smith.

A balanced attack for the Raisins saw Carol Kovacevic and Rosemary Gale lead the way with 10 points apiece while high-scoring Chung Kim headed up the Sixers attack with 24 points, followed by Corinne Buisman with 14.
