

Boaters cooled off on a crazy Saturday

Rafters were every bit as excited as crazy boaters were Saturday when they hit the water at the Credit River. These boaters were among the 110 registered for the 23rd annual Crazy Boat Race from Cheltenham to Glen Williams. Throngs of people stood on the banks of the Credit watching the boats go by.

Why? Because we love 'ya. These crazy boaters from Speyside brought Disney into the Lions Club boat race Saturday. Team Speyside painted a 'no MS' (multiple sclerosis) sign on their boat. The day's event helped raise over $10,000 for MS so far.

This crazy boater got dumped in all the confusion. The water was still cold as crazy boaters raced down the Credit River Saturday. Anyone have a light?

Someone told these boaters to enter the crazy duck race. This fine fowl is one of the 110 entries to the 23rd annual Crazy Boat Race from Cheltenham to Glen Williams. The banks of the Credit and all surrounding roads were jammed with people enjoying the day's event.

1865 IN ACTON

In October the express train ran off the track near the station on a Saturday morning due to a broken rail. There were no injuries. Rev. L. Cameron, the Presbyterian minister, was burglarized in October, but the thief was in Milton Gaol by November. The year 1865 ended with great excitement as coal oil drilling companies were being formed in the area.

Many thanks to Mark Rowe, President of the Historical Society, who wrote this article.
