Student employment tips:

Take stock before job search

Dear Canada Employment Centre for Students,

I am a student in high school who will be going to university this coming fall. In order to earn some money for the upcoming school year I want to get a job for the summer. Can you please give me some ideas about where I can begin looking for jobs other than the usual places.

Sincerely,
Looking for a Job

Dear Looking,

The first step towards finding a job is to complete a personal self assessment. This practice if done honestly and objectively can point you in the right direction towards finding a mutually satisfying and financially rewarding job. Some questions that you can ask yourself are:

1. Why do I want to work?
2. What are my immediate and long term goals?
3. What are my talents and weaknesses?

After you have taken stock of both yourself and the employment market the next step is to begin the search itself. In finding out what jobs are available:

1. Use your connections with

2. Visit employment agencies.
3. Call previous employers.
4. Talk to your guidance or placement counsellor.
5. Read the classified section of the paper.
6. Pound the pavement and visit possible employers with application letters and resumes.

Remember not to take rejection to heart. Instead, believe in yourself and keep your spirits optimistic. Be persistent, write letters and ask for interviews even when you suspect your chances are slim. Although you may not be hired immediately, your perseverance and positive attitude will remain in potential employers' minds when more suitable jobs come up.

If you have any questions or concerns please don't hesitate to call the Canada Employment Centre for Students at 877-7797 or 877-7751 or visit us at 232 Guelph St. in Georgetown.
