

Midget girls back on track

Streetsville treated Georgetown Midget Girls Softball starter Jeanette Brandford to a rough start as they scored all five runs off her in the first inning in recent league play with Georgetown winning, 8-5.

Brandford had two strikeouts in the inning. Carrie Gallant came on in the second and held them scoreless for the rest of the game. Gallant gave up a walk and two singles while striking out 13 in the six innings she pitched.

Tracy Week's double in the second drove in three runs to get Georgetown on the scoresheet. Janelle Lewis led off the third with a walk, stole second and was brought home by Webster's single. Gallant drove Webster home and Subject reached base on a walk.

Lesia Shrubsole hit one to the fence but was tagged out a home plate on a close call. Georgetown was held scoreless till the sixth when Subject reached base on a walk, stole second and came home on Sue Appleyard's single.

Lesia Shrubsole held the big bat for Georgetown as she reached base three times as did Cindy

Dunn.

The Georgetown Legion Midget girls softball team travelled to Sheridan May 31 and defeated the home side 11-1.

Jeanette Brandford started on the mound for Georgetown in her first appearance of the year. Brandford pitched five solid innings striking out three and giving up one walk and allowing only four base runners. With solid fielding behind her Brandford left with a 7-0 lead in the sixth. Gallant replaced her in the sixth giving up two hits and a walk while striking out four.

Georgetown played as a team with excellent fielding and base running. Bridget McCauley had a perfect night at the plate going four for four and playing a solid right field and centre field. Catch of the game was made by Cindy Dunn in left field in the fourth inning to take away a possible home run. Sue Subject reached base four times on two walks and two singles scoring twice.

Lesia Shrubsole and Sue Appleyard reached base three times apiece with Shrubsole getting caught trying to steal third in the fourth.

Michelle Webster played her best game of the year at third reaching base twice and scoring once. Tara Bouskill again did the catching chores and put her bat to use again as she lined one out in the fourth inning for a single.

Georgetown Midget Girls softball team lost a close game 7-6 to Clarkson on May 24.

Carrie Gallant pitched this game again and struck out eight and issued only two walks in a losing cause, in this exciting game in Clarkson.

Georgetown could not get the hits when they needed them. Georgetown's big bat in this game came from Tara Bouskill - who reached base four times with two singles and two homeruns, one in the second with Michelle Webster on base and again in the fourth with Webster again on base.

Webster reached base four times on two walks and two singles. Gallant reached base four times on a walk two singles and a triple. Sue Subject had a fine game defensively with four assists during the game while going two-for-four at the plate.

Sue Appleyard played a fine game at second having two put outs.

Georgetown had the chances to win this game but failed to get the hit when needed as they left the bases loaded three times while Clarkson made the best of theirs, leaving only four base runners on.

Georgetown's next home game is against Streetsville on June 16 at the Fairgrounds.

Hoosiers lose close one

In a game June 12 which saw the lead seesaw back and forth, the Halton Hills Firestone Hoosiers dropped a close 10-8 decision to Chinguacousy, in Halton-Peel league play. This drops the peewees' regular-season record to three wins and three losses.

The visiting Hoosiers opened up a quick 3-0 lead in the top of the first, only to have Ching count four in their half to regain the lead. Firestone leadoff batter Andrea Leeking worked a walk and two wild pitches later was on third. Shannon Morris then hit a solid fly ball to right to cash the runner. Tammy Richards followed with a single. One out later, a double by Natalie Cameron cashed that run. And a follow-on single by Kim Sheppard drove in Cameron.

Neither team scored in the second, although the Hoosiers stranded two on base. But in the top of the third, they regained the lead. Wendy Graham singled, and Cameron walked. Sheppard's second single of the game drove in a run. Sam Gudgeon's bunt was thrown wide of first and two more runs scored. After both Amy Korzack and Lisa Harlow worked walks, Leeking cashed the fourth run with a single. It was 7-3.

However Chinguacousy tallied three runs in their half. After three innings, it was a 7-7 tie.

Ching counted one in the fourth, stealing home on a close play at the plate. But Firestone tied it up in the top of the fifth, with some textbook run-manufacturing play. Leeking drew a base on balls. Morris laid down a nice bunt, sacrificing the runner to second, and Richards cashed the runner with a single.

Firestone lost the game in the bottom of the fifth, when an error, walk and double generated the two-run margin of victory. Morris and Richards split the pitching duties, allowing eight earned runs on seven hits and five walks, while striking out five. On the hook at the end, Richards took the loss.

The Halton Hills Firestone Hoosiers split a pair of games last week in Halton-Peel league play. This brings the peewees' record to three wins and two losses. Both games were lop-sided, with a total of 55 runs being scored in the games.

On June 6, the Hoosiers visited Streetsville for a game under the lights. The home side, which appears to be one of the best teams around, pounded the locals by a score of 18-0. The Firestones gave up 11 hits and eight walks while only collecting three hits themselves. Shannon Morris was the pitcher of record for the Hoosiers.

At home on Thursday, it was a different situation. After Oakville had taken a quick five-run lead in the top of the first, Halton Hills roared back in the bottom half with 13 of their own. Lisa Harlow and Julie Scarlett led off with singles. One out later, the onslaught began. Sherie Peacock drove in two runs with a single. Shannon Morris followed with an RBI triple. Stacey Colarossi's single drove her in. After Wendy Graham walked, Kim Sheppard tripled home two more runs. Amy Korzack then walked to complete the first time through the lineup. They went through it a second time, before the inning ended.

The Hoosiers continued their attack over the rest of the game, scoring one in the second, and 17 in the fourth and final frame. Tammy Richards clubbed two homeruns for the game. Sheppard led the team in RBIs, with six and Colarossi led in runs scored, with five.

Andrea Leeking, Morris and Richards split the pitching duties, with Morris picking up the victory.

The team now heads into the busiest part of their summer schedule, with three tournaments on successive weekends, to go along with their regular league play.
