Babies baptised.

NORVAL-Six of the nine babies baptised in Norval United Church on May 14 by the Rev. Walter Ridley, had parents or grandparents entertaining family members following the service.

Glen and Donna Lyons of Streetsville, parents of Candice Lauren, celebrated with a luncheon following the service, at the home of Clark and Ruth Lyons of Norval, grandparents of Candice. Guests included her two brothers Neal and Gregory, Grandma Margaret Giles of Streetsville, David and Helen Giles, Bramalea, Gordon and Tracy Giles, Wasaga Beach, Heather Vanderweide of Streetsville, and special friend Sharon Gagnon of Toronto. Also Brian and Gail Robinson, David and Leslie Anne of RR2, Norval, Gary and Julie Lyons and Gordon Lyons, all of RR2, Georgetown, and Ronnie and Phyllis Moffatt of Norval. Special thanks to Phyllis for making the Christening cake.

Harley and Gayle Laroche, Langstone Cres., Georgetown, entertained their families, following the baptism of their grandson Jacob Alexander, son of Troy and Barb (Haskins) Laroche of Peterborough. Special guests were grandparents Earl and Marlene Haskins, Georgetown, and great grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Grant Forgrave of Campbellford, Ontario, godmother Laurie Haskins and friend Steve and Tena Laroche and Tom Stykes, all of Georgetown, and Sue Nutall of Acton, all enjoyed the family party.

Tom and Karen Adcock entertained at their Lynden Circle home in Georgetown, following the baptism of their son, Clint Westley, on May 14. Clint's grandparents Fred and Alice Davis of RR1 Norval, and Myrtle Adcock, of Port Colbourne, as well as Clint's uncle Steve Davis all attended the celebration.

Following the baptism on May 14 of Jack Davis, son of John and Sandra Harrison, Jackie's grandparents Bert and Sandra Harrison entertained the family at their home in Brampton. Great grandparents Jack and Amy Davis of Aylmer, and Marjorie Harrison of Norval were honored guests as were grandparents Mac and Ruth Hyatt of Brampton. Also attending were Barb and Fred Kendrick of Acton, John and Debbie Whalen and Clark of Brampton. Also Susan Harrison and her fiancé Rick Topping of Brampton, as well as Jackie's (little big) sister Jennifer.

The Burk family enjoyed the afternoon at the home of Richard and Sharon (Burk) Arbour of Georgetown following the May 14 baptism service. Attending were Jeff and Diane (Savage) Burk of Brunner, Ont., with baby Jeffrey Garrett who was baptised, as well as his two older sisters Elicia and Katelin. Honored guests were grandma Amy Burk of Georgetown, Bob and Sheila Burk of Barrie and Amy Preston who all helped to make the day special.

Alex and Susan (Diener) Gunn of Brampton, parents of Paul William, hosted a family party. Grandparents Anne Diener of Sundridge and Alistair and Nancy Gunn of Caledon East enjoyed being with their grandchildren.

P. T. Fisher will be missed

NORVAL-A life-long resident and farmer in the Scotch Block area, 86-year-old James P.T. Fisher of RR3 Georgetown, passed away April 20 at the Bennett Health Care Centre in Georgetown, after a year's illness.

Jim was one of the old school, and always had time for a friendly visit. His love and respect for the land he worked, kept him close to the farm and home he was born and brought up on. Jim was never too busy to take his turn in community events and organizations.

Throughout his long life he held many offices as a member of the Georgetown Fall Fair Board, as well as the Liberal Association and was a director of the Hallwell Fire Insurance Company. The Boston Presbyterian Church member was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown on April 22. The Rev. Peter Barrow officiated at the funeral service from the J.S. Jones and Son Funeral Home, Georgetown. Pallbearers were Jim Stark, Bruce McClure, Gordon Wingfield, George Fisher, Chisholm Hume, and Doug McPhail. Flower bearers were Alois Nietlispach, Keith McKenzie, John Young, Clifford McDonald, and Paul Lawson. A good friend and neighbor to all, Jim is mourned by his wife Jessie, as well as several nieces and nephews.

Sky Dome tour

NORVAL-The annual yearly bus trip of Norval United Church, was a great day for 40 ladies on June 16. Conveners Anne Wilson and Deanna Cleave planned the first stop at SkyDome. A guided tour of the world's most innovative entertainment facility, with a revolutionary retractable roof, as well as the world's largest replay screen and scoreboard. Also the world's most unique hotel - 70 of its 348 rooms and suites, overlooking the playing field. There are nine major restaurants, cafes, and lounges and the largest McDonald's in North America.

It is the home of the Toronto Blue Jays baseball league, the home of Toronto Argonauts football club and other sporting events and concerts. There are 53,000 seats for baseball, 54,000 seats for football, and up to 65,000 for concerts, as well as 18,000 seats that actually move for best viewing of baseball, football and other events.

After the tour we took a short bus trip to Harbour Front where shopping and browsing was exciting with countless eating spots, by the water front, where scenery was beautiful.

Then again we took another short bus ride to the Ryerson Theatre, where the Hamilton Geritol Follies, staged by the Seniors, was a "tonic for all." Beautiful old songs in choir numbers, duets, and dancing, was a real treat to all who enjoy this type of entertainment, but very seldom hear it. Thanks again to Deanna and Anne and the bus driver, we arrived home safely from a great day.

Local graduate

NORVAL-David Cleave recently graduated from the University of Guelph with an Associate Diploma in Agriculture. His parents, Donald and Deanna Cleave, and his grandmother Bertha McKechnie, attended the graduation ceremonies held in War Memorial Hall, Guelph. Rita Burak, Deputy Minister of Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, gave the convocation address and Chancellor William A. Stewart presented the diplomas.

David has returned to Cleave View Farms on Mississauga Road to join his father, an OAC '56A graduate and his brother Brian, OAC '85A in operating the family dairy farm.
