

TV for Learning Reel Delights

(TC)—On Tuesday and Wednesday at 9:00 p.m. in August and September, TVOntario presents films from the Saturday Night at the Movies repertory. On August 29 don't miss Ingrid Bergman and Yul Brynner in Anastasia. In Paris, 1928, a group of exiled White Russians claim to have found the living daughter of the czar, presumed executed in 1918. The claimant is schooled by a general, with whom she falls in love.

Hollywood's sparkling comedy The Philadelphia Story airs August 30. A stuffy heiress, about to be married for the second time, turns human and returns gratefully to hubby number one.

Directed by George Cukor, it stars Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant, and James Stewart.

The Glass Menagerie, on September 5, tells the story of a shy crippled girl who seeks escape from the shabby reality of life in St. Louis and from her mother's fantasies. Jane Wyman portrays the daughter, Gertrude Lawrence is the mother, and Kirk Douglas is the "gentleman caller."

And on September 6, Lord of the Flies is broadcast. After a plane crash, a party of English schoolboys are stranded on an uncharted tropical island, and gradually turn savage.

Yul Brynner and Ingrid Bergman star in Anastasia.

Tides and their causes

The tides are a natural phenomenon involving the alternating rise and fall in the large fluid bodies of the Earth caused by the combined gravitational attraction of the sun and moon, notes The World Almanac. The combination of these two variable-force influences produces the complex recurrent cycle of the tides.
