

Midget girls softball

Local Legion team defends championship

The Legion Girls successfully defended their title, once again winning the Mississauga Valley Midget League Championship and playoff championship as well.

The girls' record stood at 19 wins against two losses for the year.

Georgetown started off slow in the first game of the double-knockout tournament, playing Mississauga Valley.

Carrie Gallant handled the pitching chores for the Georgetown team with Tara Bouskill catching.

Gallant struck out four and walked one in the 6-4 ball game. Susan Subject and Michelle Webster played a strong defensive game at short and third, respectively.

In game two, Georgetown defeated a tough Milton squad 4-2.

Gallant again did the pitching for Georgetown striking out four, walking one and hitting one batter.

Georgetown defence played standout ball as Michelle Webster and Sue Subject each had three assists and Tara Bouskill threw a Milton runner out trying to steal second. Gallant was the big hitter, going three-for-three with a triple and two singles and driving in two runs.

Lesia Shrubsole also reached base three times on three singles. Sue Subject's single in the third drove in Gallant and Teri Korzack's single in the fifth scored Gallant.

Milton's runs came in the second and the fourth inning.

Georgetown won the championship by giving Mississauga Valley their second loss of the tournament.

Georgetown put their bats to use as they pounded out 29 hits scoring 22 times to record a 22-5 win.

Gallant pitched again, striking out three and issuing four walks.

Georgetown lost Tracy Weeks in the second inning sliding into home with a knee injury.

Janelle Lewis came in from left field to replace her at second. Lewis came up with several great plays and went four-for-four at the plate driving in four runs.

Cindy Dunn made two good catches in right field and reached base twice. Jeanette Brandford and Bridget McCauley each reached base three out of four times. Subject reached twice and assisted on three plays.

Bouskill caught this game for her third game and reached base three times. Michelle Webster had a standout game at third, reached base twice and drove in two runs and played injured during the second and third games.

Teri Korzack played a strong centre-field catching three fly ball and reaching base twice.

Gallant reached base four times on a single and three walks. Lesia Shrubsole played a strong game at first and reached base four out of five times with two singles, a double and a homerun to end off a fine year for her.

Carrie Gallant won a bag as the most valuable player on the Georgetown squad for the tournament. A special thanks to Lou Brandford who helped coach the girls and to the Branch 120 Legion for financial assistance during the year.

This was the Midget Girls fourth year of having a team. The first year they came in third and then won three league championships and this year their first playoff championship. Congratulations girls.
