Our sympathy goes out to his family and friends at this distressing time.

Red Cross and United Way go hand in hand

The Georgetown and District Red Cross Branch of The Canadian Red Cross Society knows only too well the importance of the 1989 United Way campaign. As a partner with the United Way of Halton Hills the Georgetown and District Red Cross branch depends on a successful United Way campaign so that we may continue to provide quality services to the residents of this community.

Thanks to your United Way donation to last year's campaign, the Georgetown and District Red Cross was able to:

- collect 1933 units of blood;
- give aid to 24 residents with food and shelter when personal misfortune fell upon them;
- made 161 round trips to out-of-town medical appointments - 97 of these were for our seniors;

- loan out 241 articles of sickroom equipment to help those people remain in their homes either after surgery or short-term illness - 104 of these articles were for our seniors;

- hold fitness classes for our seniors in three of the senior centres in our community;

- have 100 trained team members on stand-by ready to organize hundreds more volunteers in case of a major disaster in the town of Halton Hills;

- teach 1090 youngsters swimming lessons in the Georgetown and Acton pools.

When Canadians want to help abroad as they did with Hurricane Gilbert and the Armenian earthquake, they turn to our local Red Cross branch for assistance.

Red Cross programs and services in our community depend on public support. Give generously to our 1989 United Way campaign and when help is needed - whether in our community or around the world - the Red Cross will be there.

If you contribute to the United Way by a payroll deduction system at your place of employment outside of Halton Hills, please specify that your contribution goes to your community.
