FOOD

AILEEN CLAIRE

The days of haphazard trick-or-treating are over. For safety reasons, Halloween antics are more likely to be organized in a church or school hall. Even more probable, parents and children alike do their "spooking" at home parties.

In recent years there has been a swing to adult parties. According to Frank Rieysen, editor of Playthings, a trade publication of toys and games, more dollars are involved as adults play dress-up. Manufacturers aggressively market characters from movies and TV, as Halloween proves very lucrative for retailers.

Business aside, to many All Hallows' Eve still is a night for youngsters to don their favorite costumes and indulge in ghoulish fun. This year expect to see a host of pint-sized Batmans, Jokers, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, Freddy Kruegers and Garfields, prowling the neighborhood streets (again accompanied by adults) in search of Halloween goodies. Once the annual trek is complete, many will meet for an organized party replete with cakes, cookies, cider and doughnuts.

HALLOWEEN GHOST PUZZLE COOKIES

- 1/4 cup clover honey
- 1/4 cup light molasses
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar, packed
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup (8 ounces) glace whole red cherries, finely chopped, packed

Heat honey and molasses just to boiling in medium saucepan. Remove from heat and stir in butter and sugar. Cool. Combine flour, baking soda, spices and salt. Stir into honey mixture. Mix in glace cherries. Wrap dough in plastic wrap. Refrigerate until well chilled, 4 to 6 hours.

Divide dough into 4 equal parts. Roll each part on generously floured surface to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into ghost shapes with cookie cutter. Transfer to cookie sheets. Using sharp knife, cut each cookie into puzzle pieces. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until dough is set and beginning to brown, 10 to 12 minutes. Carefully remove cookies and cool on wire racks. Decorate cookies with Ghost Frosting. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 cookies.

HOT MULLED CIDER

- 1 gallon fresh apple cider
- 2 cups brown sugar, packed
- 3 cinnamon sticks
- 1 teaspoon whole cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
- 1/2 thin orange wedges dotted with cloves

In a large non-aluminum saucepan combine cider and brown sugar. Tie cinnamon sticks, allspice, and cloves in a cheesecloth square. Add to cider mixture. Bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 10 minutes. Remove and discard the spice bag. Serve in mugs. Garnish with wedges of orange. Refrigerate any leftovers and reheat as needed. Apple juice may be used in place of cider. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 16-20 servings.
