Black Machines in gear

Great effort by Beaver Lumber

By WENDI GOODHEW

Herald Special

Coaches Markham, LaRose, MacCloud and Krause drove their Black Machines to Orangeville for their first tournament of the year.

Georgetown met Toronto East End for their first game. Toronto came out strong to score early in the first period. Markham pulled out his secret plays he's been working on when defence Tiger Jeff Telford whipped one by East End's goalie from the blueline giving Moose Goodhew and Birdman Judd Richardson the assists.

Dandy Dave Markham played an excellent game shifting gears often to do some nice backchecking. Speedster Robert McCloud played his game of the season showing lots of hustle and making some nice passes. McCloud picked up a nice pass from Judd who had been set up by Tiger Telford and jammed it in East End's net.

Mighty Mike Krause fired Georgetown's third goal home giving credit to teammates Ace LaRose and Eager Beaver Ryan Smith for the assists. Maddog Mike Maddill proved you can't count him out even when he's been knocked down, when Robert McCloud spun the puck out front of East End's net Maddog poked it in while sitting in front of the net.

McCloud scored Georgetown's final goal with Grizzly Jeff Barr and Ace LaRose assisting. In net for Georgetown was Joey Barber who made some great saves. Georgetown won 5-3.

Later that day, Georgetown met another strong team, the Toronto Toros who had beat their last opponents 9-1. This was to be a tough game, the winners to go on to play for the tournament championship. With a man off in the penalty pitstop Ace LaRose hustled into the Toros' end to fire rubber at their goalie, when the goalie cleared the puck quick thinking LaRose picked it up and flipped it in over the goalie's shoulder.

Tiger Jeff Telford and Moose Jeoy Goodhew had a tough time guarding the blueline but proved when you push them around they get tougher. Speedster Robert McCloud took a nice pass from Grizzly Jeff Barr and turned the scoreboard to 2-0. Eager Beaver Ryan Smith and Grizzly Jeff Barr set Toros players into tailspins at the blueline a few times.

Daring Dave Markham and Mighty Mike Krause were sent flying more than once when they created action in front of the Toros net. Maddog Mike Maddill jammed Birdman Judd Richardson's rebound past the goalie to make the score 3-0 for Georgetown.

Joey Barber earned the shutout for Georgetown when he was tested he came up big to make some nice glove saves. Our second goalie Chris Hall and Dan Cabral out with a flat tire cheered teammates on from the bench.

Sunday, the Black Machines drove back to Orangeville for the championship game against strong Richmond Hill, who had won their last game 12-0!

To start the day off in the right lane the Beaver Lumbers Black Machines had a team picture taken with the real Stanley Cup each hoping some day the Black Machines name would be added on it.

After a quick spot check the Machines hit the ice, this was to be a tough game. Joey Barber was in net for Georgetown and he guarded the net like gold. Allan Bester could have seen his double that day. Ace Robert LaRose and Birdman Judd Richardson were revved up and banging on Richmond Hill's door throughout the game, but their goalie was tough. Maddog Mike Maddill and Mighty Mike Krause did some nice digging and created action up front. Demolition Dave Markham took a lot of banging when he tried to stand his ground in front of Richmond Hill's net to get a shot. Speedster Robert McCloud went for a drive a few times but couldn't outmanoeuvre their goalie.

Defence Grizzly Jeff Barr and Eager Beaver Ryan Smith went up a few roadblocks, and fishtailed a number of Richmond Hill players ruining their scoring chances.

The gruesome twosome Tiger Jeff Telford and Moose Jeoy Goodhew sent a few players back to their own end with motor problems. Jeoy Goodhew threw it into high gear a couple of times to stall Richmond Hill just in the nick of time. With just two minutes to play Richmond broke the 0-0 tie when they slipped one into our net to score.

It was a great game and the coaches as well as parents could be proud of their Black Machines who fought to the end, against some very large hockey teams. Chris Hall, our second goalie, showed great sportsmanship as he cheered his teammates on.

Beaver Lumber's Black Machines are back on home ice tuning up for their next roadtrip, who knows some day it may be Maple Leaf Gardens.

P.S. Dave Krause your hair looks great!

Raiders struggling

Division leader visits

By COLIN GIBSON

Georgetown Pontiac-Buick Raiders are in danger of dropping out of sight in the Central Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League West Division standings following their most recent outings.

Last weekend, Raiders dropped two games 9-4 to Streetsville and 7-4 to Brampton Capitals (both road games) and their 1-12 record leaves them mired in the league's West Division cellar.

The Raiders' lone win of the 1989-90 regular season was over new league and West Division entry, Peterborough.

Roster changes over the past two weeks have not made things any easier for the players as adjustments, both on the ice and in the dressing room, take time and patience to firmly take hold.

Raiders had a game scheduled in Oakville against the Blades Friday evening - at press time, the score was not available.

Tonight (Saturday) Raiders play host to division-leading Streetsville Derbys, game time 7:30 p.m. at Gordon Alcott Memorial Arena.

Chances are the Derbys will not be in an accommodating mood as Oakville Blades are making a run at first place in the West Division standings, following a 4-0 whitewash of Streetsville on Thursday.

In another surprise league result from Thursday, Brampton topped Milton Merchants 5-2.

Hard-working Bill McDonald tops the Raiders scoring parade with 14 points on eight goals and six assists. Jim English is next on the team's scoring charts with 10 points on two goals and eight assists.

Duplicate bridge

The team of Doris Barber and Jeanne Servos claimed the Number One winners title this week in Duplicate Bridge play at Georgetown Branch 120 Royal Canadian Legion.

Earl Ryder and Norma Maynard emerged as Number Two winners, while the team of George Sargeant and Jack Kaarsemaker latched on to Number Three winners honors.

The Georgetown Legion, located on Mill Street, hosts Duplicate Bridge competition every Monday afternoon.

Foodland reps top Hespeler

Acton Foodland Novice Rep team evened its 1989-90 regular season record at 1-1, with a 4-2 win over Hespeler in a game played last Wednesday (Nov. 1) at the Acton Community Centre.

Sharpshooter Brent McGuire, proved the difference in the game, as the Acton team rebounded from a 2-0 deficit early in the first period to score four unanswered goals and claim the well-earned win.

The score was tied 2-2 after the first period, with Acton edging ahead 3-2 after two periods.

Acton scored the lone third period marker to sew up the 4-2 win.

McGuire scored twice and collected an assist.

David Owen had a goal and an assist for the winners with Ryan Young rounding out the Acton scoring.

Also adding assists for Acton were Kevin Deny, Kevin Dick, Scott Monaghan and Devon Fraser.

This Saturday the Foodland crew pays a return visit to Hespeler.

Television program should offer insights

Parents and volunteers involved in minor hockey might well be advised to tune into CBLT (Channel 5/Cable 6) this Monday evening at 7 p.m.

The CBC program, Monitor, will air a 15 minute segment dealing with adults involved in youths' games.

There will be several interviews dealing with the topic and the program's camera crew filmed an entire Ontario Hockey Federation Appeal Tribunal hearing in the offices of the Metropolitan Toronto Hockey League, two weeks ago - with segments to appear in Monday's broadcast.

For those involved in minor hockey and the sometimes frustrating bureaucracy, the program might prove to be an eye-opener.
