

Wedding bell phantom

The Madonna Bridal Spring Fashion Show for 1990 wasn't without drama, at Bishop Reding High School in Milton, Sunday. Here a model decked out in a Phantom of the Opera costume is about to introduce several models displaying a selection of lingerie to the theme music of the popular opera. (Herald photo)

Ballinafad organizes to help Walker family after house fire

By BETTY SOJKA

Ballinafad Correspondent

A terrible thing has happened to the Bonnie Walker family, when their house burned early Thursday morning, leaving nothing standing. The fire struck in the middle of the night, when the family was sound asleep. Awakening when the smoke detector rang out, they found that the fire had engulfed the lower residence. By tying bedsheets together the family managed to lower themselves to the ground from a second floor bedroom. Each member suffered a degree of smoke inhalation. They lost all their possessions which included their vehicles.

In a step to re-establish, a trailer will be placed on the property this week. The community is planning something very special to support the Walker family. Please come one and all to the Community Centre on Sunday, Feb. 4, from 1 to 4 p.m., for a "Starting Over Gathering." One of the saddest things the Walkers have to deal with is not having possessions that hold those special memories. Sure they could go and replace items, but it will not be the same as all those gifts given for birthdays, Christmases and just special things picked up along the way.

Here is our chance as a community to give some memories. Bring along something. It can be small like a tape that Diane or Jeff may enjoy, or a coffee cup for Bonnie. The idea is not to spend an exorbitant amount, but give them back some personal possessions that the memories can be cherished for the giver that was so kind. You have a big choice because the family is starting over from nothing, and of course they need all the usual things in the household. If you can give a memory, please come and help ease this family through this awful time.

There is a wonderful news update to the Foster family who also suffered losing their home to fire. Beryl Carter, an employee of Boehmers of Georgetown, approached the company president with a request for the Fosters. After reading how her company gave so many dollars to help people in South America, she asked why the company couldn't help those in need closer to home. Beryl was quite a persuader because Boehmers has announced that the company will donate a new furnace for the Foster family. Boehmers should be applauded for their generosity so close to home.

The Girl Guides have resumed their Wednesday evening meetings after the Christmas break. They are making plans for a winter sleep over to be held in February.

Last week to get your tickets for the Robbie Burns Supper, to be held on Saturday, Jan. 27 at the Community Centre. For just $12.50 a person you can enjoy the experience of a Robbie Burns Supper, which will include a wonderful roast beef dinner, and a dance to follow. The fun starts at 6:15 p.m., goes along until 12 p.m. Please contact Mrs. McEnery at 877-3721, or Mrs. Jamieson at 877-3835 to get your tickets.
