Burns dinner was a hit

The Robbie Burns Night for the Talking Books for the Blind was a huge success. President Marj Tutty and her committee are to be congratulated.

Saturday Darts in Cooksville was not a good day for Georgetown. We had four teams competing but no winners. One of our teams thought they might get the low or booble prize (no names mentioned) but an Oakville team deprived them of that dubious honor by not getting any points at all. On the draws we fared much better with Ruby Bailey and Helen Cloutier each winning on the Zone Sports Draw and Flo Carswell on the Cooksville draw. Helen Cloutier also won "high score" with a 126.

Feb. 3 is darts to go on to District in Bronte. Call Rita Rudiger if you are putting in a team.

February is a slow month for banquets but help will be required on Feb. 24 for the Air Cadet Dinner and Dance.

Our meeting night is early, the third Thursday being Feb. 16.

Bub Waites, Jean Roshier and Lil Kirley are all home from hospital, but Floss Tracey is in Georgetown hospital and I am sure would appreciate cards. Flo Walters still remains in hospital as well.

Appreciation night

NORVAL-The Huttonville Lions Club entertained members and friends at a Community Appreciation Night on Jan. 26 at the Huttonville School. Reverend Bob Rumball, from the School for the Deaf in Toronto was the guest speaker.

Rev. Rumball praised the Lions Club for providing the tools, so deaf children will lead a productive life and are taken into schools for the deaf, and taught the sign language. They can then grow up, taking their place in the community.

Rev. Rumball told many heart-trending stories. One of their five adopted children, a little girl, who realized that as girls grew up and become young women, they wore earrings. But, this little girl had no ears, to put earrings on. So, her one big wish when she asked the doctor for ears, was just big enough to wear earrings, and believe it or not, they managed to make that possible.

The Lions Club members sponsor a Spring and Fall Craft Antique Show and Sale at Huttonville, as well as run bingo nights in Brampton for 12 weeks, both money-making projects. These in turn help to make the donations they provide to many groups and projects. They are donating air circulating fans to the Bennett Health Care Centre, Georgetown, as well as crib boards in table models for the residents' enjoyment. They also give $6,000 to the Canine Vision in Oakville to train one dog.

Rev. Rumball was presented with a $1,000 cheque by the Lions Club. A second presentation of a Ford Escort car was made to the Peel Branch of the V.O.N. which will be used in the Huttonville area. Carol Burch, executive director of the V.O.N. accepted the car.

President Bill French, Past President Sho Teramoto, Treasurer Gord Early, and Secretary Bill Palmer assisted with both presentations on behalf of the Huttonville Lions Club.

A wine and cheese reception was enjoyed both prior and following the program.
