Broomball tourney put on hold

It appears that the vagaries of Mother Nature have once again combined to scuttle plans for the annual outdoor broomball tournament staged by the Halton Hills Recreation and Parks Department.

The tournament had been scheduled for this Saturday on the outdoor rinks at the Fairgrounds but according to Recreation and Parks Department spokesman Jeff Bitton, the chances that the tournament will be able to take place are iffy, at best.

"We don't have a proper snow base under the ice," pointed out Bitton, "and the mild temperatures we have been experiencing lately plus the forecasted continuing mild temperatures for this week likely won't allow the needed ice surface to form. There is a chance we might be able to go ahead as scheduled with the tournament - but only a small chance."

Twelve teams have registered to take part in the tournament and Bitton has requested that team representatives contact him at the Recreation and Parks Department, 873-2600 later this week when a final decision will be made.
