How To Write A Classified Ad That Gets Results!

Step-by-step instructions:

- Use The Observer
- Identify the product you want to sell, utilizing brand names, if possible. Avoid unclear abbreviations.
- Capture the reader's interest with basic information about the item and a few appealing details.
- Describe the item's features and or condition without exaggeration. Make an attractive, but believable pitch.
- There's a price to pay, and for maximum response, you need to include it. People are only interested in what they can afford. And by the way, if the price is negotiable, say so.
- Stay close to your phone while your ad is running, or be specific about the hours when you can be reached. Be there when the phone rings OR ELSE... you might miss a sale.
- Call Today - 877-8822.
