

Artist at work

Shelly Crane adds the finishing touches to a masterpiece at the YMCA's open house for the play school program. The YMCA recently held the open house at Odd Fellows Hall. Pinky the Clown, from Up, Up, and Away Balloons, was also at the open house and helped to decorate the hall. This is the second session of classes for the program. (Herald photo)

Kinsmen auction to run on Cable TV on May 7

The Kinsmen Club of Georgetown is gearing up for what is expected to be their most successful fund raising project of the year. The club has arranged with Halton Cable T.V. to run their annual T.V. Auction live on Monday, May 7 from 6 to 11 p.m.

The Kinsmen have been canvassing local businesses for support; and in such a project as this, everybody wins. Merchants who donate items will receive free advertising during the auction, and viewers who bid successfully will get a bargain on which they will pay no sales tax.

Some of the major items that will be auctioned off include: a 1990 Plymouth Spirit, 4-door (with air conditioning, AM-FM cassette, cruise control, tilt steering and bucket seats with recliners); a 14½ foot Sea Nymph fishing boat with motor and trailer; at least 10 different hotels each offering a weekend for two and several Blue Jay tickets. The draw prize for the evening will be a 20-inch color television donated by Zellers.

Proceeds from the T.V. Auction will go towards community projects as well as Cystic Fibrosis, the Kinsmen's national project. Cystic Fibrosis is a hereditary disease of children, and as yet there is no known cure. However, during the last 28 years the average life expectancy has climbed from four years to 25 years of age. And, good news in 1989 ... Researchers found the gene which causes Cystic Fibrosis! This discovery will facilitate the identification of carriers of the defective gene (an estimated one in every 20 Canadians is a carrier).

The Kinsmen are excited about this special fund raiser and have been working hard to make this not only a successful fund raising project but also to make it an entertaining evening for the viewers. The Kinsmen also wish to thank the merchants who are always very generous with the items and gift certificates they donate.
