

Volunteers honored

By KAY WILSON
Norval Correspondent
Bill and Mae Brander, R.R.2 Norval, attended the Seventh Annual Volunteer Appreciation Evening for the Town of Caledon in the Caledon Complex Centre on April 24. Twenty people were recognized for their volunteer work.

Their daughter Shirley, wife of Doug McDonald, R.R.1 Terra Cotta, and mother of three children, was recognized for her community involvement over the past 20 years. Shirley has been active in Union Presbyterian Church, Womens Institute, school, hockey, 4-H work, curling, and does a lot of typing for many organizations.

David Armstrong, R.R.1 Inglewood, was also recognized for his work in the community and his church. David was instrumental in organizing the Share Program, when several farmers in Peel and Halton each gave a holstein heifer calf. These cattle were shipped to Brazil, to start a herd of milking cows, for an orphanage. This program is closely monitored by the Share members. Hugh and Melba Beaty of Milton are public relations officers for the Share members, who check out the cattle and herdsmen yearly, to keep the dairy herd under control.

Euchre winners

Brampton West Womens Institute Euchre on April 20 had 17 tables at the Huttonville Community School. Ladies high were Marion Lighthouse, Wilma Archdekin and Dorothy Johnston. Mens high were John McClure, Art Johnston and Wilmer Mason. Lucky draw winners were Jim Lighthouse, Marion McCallum, Gordon Sharpe, Dorothy Ostrander, Norman Harris, Elgin Terry, Doug McClure, Marg Tost, Florence Lyons and Charlotte McClure.

Following the dinner a short business meeting was held, to elect a new slate of officers. Fred and Marg Clarkson and Fred and Helen Paul will both share the president's chair. John and Jean Dunlop are the treasurers, with Albert and Ada Enman acting as secretary. Euchre, crockinole and fun games finished off an enjoyable evening.

Herald Publisher Bob Malcolmson donned the apron at McDonalds in Georgetown for McHappy Day last Wednesday. Several dignitaries from Halton Hills served hamburgers, french fries, and drinks throughout the day. Marion Lookman is the thirsty customer here. Money raised during McHappy Day, over $2,000, was donated to the Halton Children's Aid Society and Ronald McDonald House.
