

Darts League Roundup

Gordie Bottoms popular choice

This is it, the final column for this year. (I have already turned to another sport for the summer).

The Industrial league held the annual awards, dinner and dance last Friday at the Georgetown Legion and a fine night was had by all.

Arguably, the highlight of the evening was the award of a 100 plaque to the ever-popular and worthy recipient - young Gordie Bottoms. The presentation certainly brought the loudest round of applause from the members.

Bouquets and free draw tickets were presented to the ladies as a nice gesture from the league to the long suffering darts 'widows'.

Summer darts continue at the Legion Wednesday evenings at 9:00 p.m. in a blind draw teams, round robin format. Registration before the starting time is strictly applied. It is strongly rumored that Kaspers may attempt a summer league and you can obtain details from Dan Fraser at the establishment. If enough are interested the idea will be a go.

The Halton league awards and banquet night will be on Friday,

Alex Tough Sports Views

May 25 at St. Georges Anglican Church Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m., doors open and bar open at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from team captains and Mike Pepper at Mobile Sound, Mountainview/Armstrong.

Awards go to Time Out, McGibbon and several individuals for performance. McGibbon held off all challengers to win the playoffs from league champions Time Out #1 in second place. Jim Nicholson's lads played well and took the playoff title. As I recall, Ian McDonald and Roy Poyner ended with a maximum each.

Next season there is the new concept of two divisions, one at home and one travelling. There are some definite changes in personnel and at least one new bar in town with a team on display. Look to August for the next sightings of news of openings and players should get to their favorite haunts and sign up early. Let your sponsoring bars know your appreciation and do not stop dropping in just because the season is over.

Thanks to Time Out, McGibbon, O'Tooles, Station House, Copper Kettle and Kaspers for a grand season of darts.
