Elementary schools meet a 'success'

By COLIN GIBSON
Herald Sports Editor

The Georgetown Track and Field meet for local elementary schools (grades 1-5) budding athletes was held Wednesday at the Georgetown District High School track and field facility and according to both meet officials and participants, the event was an unqualified success.

This year's Elementary School Meet was convened by Greg Socha, as part of his Grade 13 Physical Education course, and while he was quick to deflect praise from himself, the lion's share of the credit for the event's success must go to Socha.

"I'm really pleased how the meet went," said Socha, "but it couldn't have come off so well without the tremendous help and support I received not only from my fellow GDHS school-mates but also from Mr. Jim Hall and the GDHS Athletic Department. Everyone contributed to the meet's success."

Socha organized the event, provided media information, including results and was here, there and everywhere Wednesday assisting in a myriad of tasks.

A tip of the cap for a job well-done.
