Couple to be wed

A Jack and Jill Shower was held on June 24 in honor of the forthcoming marriage of Michelle Hedley and Glen Barnes. The shower was held at the home of Glen's grandparents, Alan and Jean Harrop.

Hosting the afternoon were the Harrop sisters, Marie Wilson, Aileen Little and Doreen Burt, all aunts of the groom. About 50 relatives of the Harrop family attended. Lunch was served by Gail Richardson, Kim and Kelly Little and Cheryl Burt.

Michelle is the daughter of Bob and Evelyn Hedley of Georgetown, and Glen is the son of Fred and Joan Barnes of R.R. 1, Georgetown.

Garage sale

Gigantic garage sale, Sat., July 7 at the Teggart Farm, Steeles Ave. and Tenth Line, by the citizen's group who are fighting the asphalt plant. All or any donations would be appreciated. Drop by the Teggart Farm, or phone for pickup at 826-1408, 878-7624, 877-4374 or 455-8579.

Norval UCW

Norval U.C.W. Unit One met at Crawford's Cafe, Norval, on June 21. Members were happy to welcome former member Eunice Wilson and her daughter-in-law Ruth Moore of Orton. The atmosphere of the cafe lends itself to Jamaica, with the huge water prints that graced the one wall. Tree shrubs and ivy add a lot to the spacious dining area.

Couples club

Norval U.C. Couple Club June 18 meeting took the form of a ball game at the community school grounds. Following the ball game a barbecue was enjoyed on the lawn and John and Jean Dunlop, Fred and Marg Clarkson and Fred and Helen Paul convened the evening.

Big day

The Strawberry Festival sponsored by Huttonville strawberry growers had a big day on Sat., June 23. Various groups were part of the festivities.

The Huttonville Lions Club served a breakfast from 9-12 a.m. of pancakes and sausage with regular or strawberry syrup. During the day, Parks and Recreation had various activities in the large gym for the young people.

The afternoon was taken up with a musical program, co-ordinated by Jan Sterritt, while the ladies of the Huttonville Church had a booth featuring strawberry shortcake.

Taking part in the program were Bonnie Neely of R.R. 2 Brampton, singing several numbers. The River Road Cloggers entertained, and Rosalea Berger of Ballinacraig sang. Bob Armstrong and his Banjo Rascals played several toe-tapping country and western numbers and Mike Parker of Mississauga accompanied himself on his guitar. The Harmony Barber Shop Express from Mississauga added a lot to the program, and Jan Sterritt sang at various times. Report from the Strawberry Festival committee says it was a great day inside even though it was damp outside.

Get well

Get well wishes to Bill Allison, R.R. 2, Georgetown, who is a patient in Wellsley Hospital, Toronto.

Brampton W.I.

The Family and Consumers meeting of the Brampton West Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Charlotte McClure May 8. President Lois Fraser opened the meeting with the Opening Ode, and the Mary Stewart Collect. Secretary Mary Garbutt read the minutes of the April meeting and the correspondence.

Roll call "What's your beef?" was answered by all. Electronic phone calls, changes in package sizes, Young Offenders Act, and do-it-yourself supermarket checkouts were some of the beefs mentioned.

Isabel Fraser introduced Mr. Wayne Ball from Orangeville, who had the opportunity to go with several other young professional men to Nigeria, sponsored by the Ontario Rotary Club. The group of men accompanied by Mr. Jim Fraser from the Peel Rotary Clubs were billeted in the homes of the host clubs in Nigeria.

Mr. Ball commented on a video of his trip, which showed many aspects of everyday life in this difficult country. Nigeria was a British Colony which gained its independence in 1960, and is now a dictatorship. The yearly income of the workers is about $3,000 U.S. Water was in short supply, as it was the dry season during their stay. Food was a real challenge as they did not always know what they were eating. Mr. Ball said the trip was a very interesting and learning experience. Lunch was served by the hostess and the committee and a social time was enjoyed.

Chess Tournament

Pair share first prize at GDHS

The first annual Georgetown Summer Open Chess Tournament was held this weekend at Georgetown District High School.

The tournament was sponsored by the G.D.H.S. Chess Club, organized by Chris Bertelson and directed by Tim Knechtel from Drayton, Ontario.

The tournament draw a respectable 40 participants from as far away as Montreal.

The tournament was run according to Chess Federation of Canada regulations and all participants were required to have Canadian Federation of Chess memberships and are subsequently rated by the federation.

The tournament was considered first class because of the spacious playing rooms and cafeteria service provided by members of the Outers Club and the Chess Club, supervised by Mrs. Diane Masters, who is co-sponsor of the G.D.H.S. Chess Club.

Younger players from London and Sudbury, were billeted with Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. and Mrs. Stuart-Hagge, a service for which the organizers were most grateful.

The players were divided into two sections, an open section and the amateur section. The open section was blessed with no less than three Canadian Masters including Georgetown's own Robert Hamilton. Francois Leveille flew in from Montreal, and Dave McTavish came from London. The tournament was also attended and supported by the presence of Yves Farges, Near Master, and a member of the Board of Governors for the Canadian Chess Federation.

As well the tournament received many visitors including Masters Brian Hartman, Canada's number 7 player and Bryon Nickoloff, Canada's number two player.

The tournament director had a rather sticky situation on his hands when a member of the open section stopped his clock and claimed a win on the basis that his opponent, who could only speak Arabic, had not recorded his moves. A verbal altercation occurred. Fortunately, another player, Simon Fauai, also spoke Arabic and was able to translate and calm the players down. The tournament director's ruling was appealed and so an appeals committee was convened to deal with the matter, before the next round.

The results of the tournament were as follows:

Open Section
Francois Leveille and Robert Hamilton shared first and second prizes, with four points, and Dave McTavish took third with 3½ points.

Amateur Section

Alice Lalver, Dick Riedstra and Rick Rundstedler shared 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prizes, each with 4 points.

Georgetown participants were: Brian Sowell, Glen Emerson, Robbie Pilgrim, Rick Rundstedler, Brad Thomson, Robert Hamilton and Damian Stuart-Hagge.

One of the aims of holding the tournament was achieved in the conception of the Halton Hills Community Chess Club. The organizers are pursuing a blending of the high school chess club with members of the community. The birth of such a club will take place the second week of September, 1990. Anyone interested may contact Chris Bertelsen at the high school. The club has the support of Robert Hamilton as well as Bryan Davies, the newly appointed principal of G.D.H.S.

Georgetown resident Robert Hamilton was one of three master chess players participating in the Georgetown District High school chess club tournament this past weekend. Mr. Hamilton is currently ranked 11th in Canada. Mr. Hamilton tied for first in the open class with Montrealeur Francois Leveille, another Canadian master player. The other Master was Dave McTavish from London. There were 40 entrants in all participating in the tournament. (Herald photo)
