Glen Williams defeats council handily

The annual Canada Day celebrations staged in the hamlet of Glen Williams just wouldn't be the same without the traditional softball clash between Halton Hills Town Councillors and a Glen Williams team. Although this year's "classic" was close through the early innings the Glen team was able to ram through a non-confidence motion in the later innings and the Councillors left the Glen Williams Park chamber on the heels of a 12-8 defeat. Above left, Councillor, Norm Elliott bangs out a solid hit while above right, Halton Hills Mayor, Russ Miller, shows the kind of form that baffled the hitters. Unfortunately, the hitters were members of his own team. (Herald Photos by Colin Gibson) in this area are doing and wants to let everyone know about it. However, it's like I stated earlier, I can't know everything that goes on without some help from the people who are more directly involved in each of these sports.

Now, I know that most of you aren't comfortable with writing out a story on what a particular player or team did. That's not what I'm after (at least from most of you).

What would be appreciated is a call every few weeks to let me know about something that has gotten your attention so that I can check into it and hopefully use it for the paper.

You could call it a sports tip system. I can't be aware of everything, but if I were called up, chances are good I'd be able to get out and cover whatever event was mentioned.

However, I am even more interested in talking to the coaches and managers out there, since they're the ones who have those game sheets that sports editors love so much.

You'd be surprised what sports writers can do with just one small game summary (of whatever sport) and a quick telephone call to the person in charge. In other words, don't worry if you've never written anything longer than a grocery list. Just send me a game sheet and a phone number and I'll make you sound like an old pro.

I plan on making the rounds over the next few weeks, so I hope to meet many of the great people who have volunteered their time to help make the Georgetown sports community such an active one.

In the meantime, if anything interesting comes along, or if you'd just like to say hello, please don't hesitate to call me at the office at 877-2201.

Scores aren't the only thing that I'm looking for either. If you know of someone who has won an award or has accomplished something that might be noteworthy, let me know.

This is a community newspaper that's interested in what the people

Bruno heading off to Holland

By COLIN GIBSON
 the Herald

Frank Bruno might best be described as living proof of the phrase, "You've come a long way baby".

The affable young man, in his late-20's, who plays for the Dawgs in the Georgetown Men's Flag Football League and who officiated in the league in previous years, will be leaving for Assen, Holland this coming Tuesday as a member of the Canadian national team which will be competing in the World Championships - Sport for the Disabled Track and Field meet scheduled to run through July 27.

Four years ago, Frank lingered near death because of a severe head injury suffered in an industrial accident.

He had fallen over 20 feet and fractured both sides of his skull.

He lay in a paralytic coma for three weeks while doctors and family members hovered nearby in a state of frustrated helplessness.

After he emerged from the injury-induced nether world Frank embarked on an intensive rehabilitation program and accepted the fact that his life had been drastically altered.

Irreparable brain damage had occurred and the young man freely admits he is only "about 70 per cent of what I used to be."

Always an avid athlete, Frank accepted his limitations, but worked to reach the outer limits.

Last year he set national records at the Ontario Games for the Disabled and at the National Games for the Disabled held in British Columbia.

His feats at the national championship garnered him a place on Canada's international team and he will be joined by over 300 other team members including, medical staff, therapists, mission staff and support staff.

He will be competing in the 100 metre, the 200 metre and the 400 metre dashes as well as the long jump and the shot put events.

He expects also to be a member of the 4 X 100 and 4 X 400 metre relay teams.

The provincial championships for the disabled begin tomorrow (Thursday) at Etobicoke's Centennial Stadium and Frank will be using this year's provincial trials to fine-tune for the world championships.

Expenses are involved in the trek to the World Championships and Frank is required to pay $500 to register on the team and this fee includes airfare, meals and hotel accommodation. Frank is gratefully accepting donations to help pay his registration fee.

This writer can be contacted at the Herald, 877-2201 for information for those wishing to make donations to Frank's cause.
