

Re-examination ordered

Police have ordered a 21-year-old Georgetown man to have a driver's licence re-examination after the man blacked out while driving east on Armstrong Avenue in a 1987 red Dodge resulting in the car hitting a pole and flipping Friday at 10 p.m. The driver and two passengers were taken to Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital. The driver sustained minimal injuries and two passengers in the car sustained minor injuries.

Dirt-bike accident

A Mississauga man received back and neck injuries after a dirt-biking accident in which he went over the bike's handlebars and somersaulted in front of the bike at Twin Lake, Aug. 11 at about 1:30 p.m. Police say the dirt-biker was travelling up over a crest in a bike trail and flew over the Suzuki's handlebars and landed in front of the bike. The man was taken to Milton District Hospital for medical attention.

Failing to remain

Police charged a 23-year-old Georgetown man with failing to remain at the scene of a Sargent Road accident Saturday at 1:15 a.m. Police say a vehicle parked outside a Sargent Road residence was struck by a black Mustang. Witnesses told police the driver made no attempt to remain. After searching for the vehicle police located the driver a short time later.

The Georgetown man is summoned to appear in Milton Provincial Court Sept. 10.

Fire investigation

Police are investigating a Saturday 11:27 p.m. fire at Fourth Line just north of Sideroad 25 as possible arson. Police reports say when the Milton Fire Department arrived at the location a shed was completely engulfed in flames. A neighbor informed police he heard an explosion and called the fire department. Damage to the shed was estimated at $5,000 to $7,000. Milton Fire Marshall will be investigating the cause of the fire.

Tires stolen

Between Friday at 10 p.m. and Saturday at 1:30 a.m. two tires and rims, worth $600, were stolen from the rear end of a 1978 Camaro parked at 115 John St., police say. The vehicle owners suggested to police the theft may have been a practical joke but wanted to report the incident to police in case the incident was not a joke.

Four car mishap

Halton Regional Police are investigating an Aug. 10, 7 a.m. four-car accident on Trafalgar Road north of Britannia Road which resulted in the critical injuries of a Milton man.

Jason Barlow was taken to Credit Valley Hospital and later transferred to Mississauga Hospital where he is listed in critical condition.

The 18-year-old was a back seat passenger in a 1987 Dodge Omni, operated by his father, William, when it collided with a 1987 Kenworth truck, operated by Donald Hussey of Drumbo.

Reports indicate the truck was travelling south on Trafalgar Road when it failed to stop for a line of traffic stopped for Trafalgar and Britannia Road traffic lights and collided with the Omni. Police say the force of the collision demolished the rear end of the Omni. The Omni was pushed, damaging two cars ahead.

Unsafe turning

Unsafe turning charges were laid against a 26-year-old Limehouse man after a 7:15 p.m. Saturday accident at Fifth Line and Sideroad 17. Police say the Limehouse man, driving a 1983 brown Ford, was northbound on Fifth Line, was turning left into a private drive when it collided with a passing 1989 blue Ford, driven by a 31-year-old Georgetown man.

Hit-and-run

Police are investigating a hit-and-run which occurred at 300 Guelph Street in a private lot a week ago at 11 a.m. Police say the 1985 red Ford, registered to a Terry Cotta resident, received moderate damages in the accident. The vehicle reportedly travelled northbound into the lot, made a right turn and struck the parked car in the rear corner.

Failing to yield

A noon accident last Wednesday on Chelvin Drive resulted in a failing to yield charge against a 21-year-old Georgetown man. Police say the Georgetown man, driving a 1989 white Volkswagen Jetta, was reversing out of his driveway when he failed to see a 1987 blue Cadillac, driven by a 46-year-old Brampton woman. Both cars received light damages in the collision.

Parked car struck

No charges were laid by police after a 48-year-old Georgetown woman, operating a 1989 blue Chevrolet, struck a parked car in a private lot at 69 Guelph Street at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Do you believe politicians' promises?

Pat Stuart, Georgetown: "No, I don't. They promise everything prior to the election but when they get elected they don't do a whole lot."

Gary Woolley, Huttonville: "No, not at all. Politicians are more or less for themselves. More for themselves and less for the public. They're in it for themselves, not for the people."

Tille Harvey and grandson Mathew, Georgetown: "You'd have to be an idiot to believe politicians' promises. You get the same promises now as in the last election and you didn't get them then either."

Environment group delegation confronts town council

By BEN DUMMETT
The Herald

A member of a delegation appearing before Halton Hills Council Monday, in opposition to an Energy from Waste (EFW) plant being located in the town, was questioned by town Councillor Joe Hewitt on her knowledge of the workings of such a plant.

"Have you ever been to an EFW plant?" Coun. Hewitt asked Carla Biasutti, who was speaking on behalf of the local environmental group Incineration Counteract the Environment (I.C.E.). Ms. Biasutti said she had never been to a plant but had done extensive reading on the effects of an EFW operation on the environment.

"I don't need to see one," she said. Coun. Hewitt went on to ask the delegation if I.C.E. had any members with expertise in the field of incineration. "No," said Ms. Biasutti, but she stressed that what she and the other members know comes from what they have read on the subject.

At one point during the debate, Mr. Biasutti said Coun. Hewitt ignored the group's request to talk with I.C.E. about incineration during the Liberal picnic Saturday at the Croatian Centre, in Halton Hills. Coun. Hewitt flatly denied this. "I would be willing to meet with you any time," said Coun. Hewitt.

I.C.E. members appeared before council urging it to show no support for Halton Region's current investigation on the feasibility of setting up an incineration plant in Halton Hills or in another of the Region's municipalities. The Region has identified 17 possible sites, four of which are in the southern part of Halton Hills.

Under provincial legislation the Region must consider the feasibility of establishing an EFW plant as a way to help it reduce its waste stream by 50 per cent in 10 years.

Coun. Hewitt questioned Mrs. Biasutti if she knew about this obligation, to which she replied yes. But "there are other alternatives," said Ms. Biasutti.

Ms. Biasutti stressed I.C.E. is against incineration anywhere. That means the group opposes the possibility of the Region using the St. Lawrence cement kiln in Mississauga as an EFW plant. If the Region can reach an agreement with St. Lawrence an EFW plant wouldn't be established in Halton.

Ms. Biasutti, who is a resident of Highway 25 and Regional Road 9, a suggested EFW site, told councilors any incineration plant would create toxic dust, noise and increased traffic.

The town's planning department has said it will bring forth a report on the viability of the four Halton Hills locations sometime during September.
