

Welcoming freshmen

Makin' burgers for the niners. Tuesday, the day before school, senior grade students barbecued hamburgers for the students entering Grade 9 at Georgetown District High School. The barbecue was a staff gesture to welcome the new students with the senior grade students helping out.

Fall seminar series to meet challenge needs

For many people, the Fall is often considered the beginning of a new year. Perhaps it's a carry-over from our younger days when September meant the start of another school year. Or it signals the period when summer vacations are over and we can finally tackle those projects that have been sitting in limbo since June.

Whatever your situation - an exciting new Fall seminar series can prepare you for the challenges ahead.

The three-evening program, entitled Men and Women Together - Personal Development Seminars, will be presented by Linda Burch and Clare Mezes of Burch, Mezes Associates.

This highly-trained team of Personal, Relationship and Family therapists have been practising in Georgetown since January, 1988, and have over 15 years experience in counselling and therapy.

Linda Burch holds a Masters of Social Work from the School of Social Work, Wilfred Laurier University. Her partner, Clare Mezes, has a Masters of Science degree in Marriage and Family Therapy from the University of Guelph.

According to Clare Mezes, "Georgetown is a dynamic and growing community that has managed to preserve its heritage as a small and friendly town. It was certainly the kind of area we were looking for, and we look forward to expanding and tailoring our services to meet the needs of the people in the community."

Burch and Mezes' new Fall seminar series further compliments their extensive line of personal, relationship and family services that are currently available.

The program leads off with Discovering the Treasures Within, (Sept. 12), which focuses on enhancing self-esteem and developing spontaneity, assertiveness and creativity.

The Day... Between Us: Oct. 17, 1990, explores the foundations of the intimate relationships with friends, lovers and kin.

Creating Community: Nov. 21, is a journey towards a renewed sense of community.

All three sessions will be held in the Halton Hills Library and Cultural Centre from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. The cost is $25 for one seminar, $45 for two and $65 for the three-series program.

In addition to door prizes and a book display, coffee and refreshments will be available.

For more information on the series, contact Linda Burch or Clare Mezes at 877-6355.
