

Bathroom can be inexpensively redecorated

One of the most overlooked, yet least expensive rooms to redecorate is the bathroom. Drastic measures such as changing fixtures or adding a new window are not necessary in order to achieve a fresh new look. With a little time and imagination, any room can be given a facelift.

According to Singer Sewing Company, sewing offers the perfect solution to many costly decorating dilemmas. Sewing allows the flexibility to coordinate colors and patterns in ways that can tie together even the most problematic rooms.

Perhaps you've got a blue bathtub, beige fixtures and yellow walls. Tie your colors together with a new shower curtain, window treatment, and toilet seat cover.

Almost any style shower and bathroom curtain can be made at home. Purchase a ready-made shower liner and your hard work will be protected.

Even popular pouf curtains can be made for both the window and tub valance. Purchase fabric in one of the endless colors and patterns available. A pattern of cabbage roses in soothing shades of yellow, blue and cream would dress up even the dreariest bath.

To inexpensively finish off the bathroom, sew a toilet seat cover, tissue box cover or create "designer-look" towels. Start with a good-quality yellow or blue towel found on sale. Add lace or ribbons as inserts or edging. Another idea that only looks expensive is to monogram your towels.

The monogramming cartridge on the Ultra Unlimited sewing machine from Singer can help you create masterpieces in minutes. To prevent snagging the towels when monogramming, stitch over a disposable plastic film protector found in all sewing departments. Complete your monogram, tear and launder away the film, and voila, a designer-look towel.

Easy decorating tips can be found in Singer's More Sewing For The Home, an especially valuable reference guide for redecorating. The book supplies step-by-step instructions for shower curtains, pouf window treatments and much more. Full-color photos can guide and inspire your redecorating projects.

So, there's no need to live with a dreary, mismatched bath. With a little creativity and a sewing machine you can revitalize any room.
