

Norval W.I. opens fall season with interesting tour

Eleven members of Norval W.I. opened their Fall season with a tour of Bethel of the Watch Tower Bible Tract situated on 170 acres in Georgetown.

The tour began with a slide presentation of operations at Bethel as well as on the farm the Bible Tract owns.

We toured the "factory" which is a complete printing operation from A to Z in 45 languages.

Then our guide took us through an underground tunnel to the live-in quarters complete with apartments, library, laundry facilities and a restaurant.

We then returned to the home of Gladys Chester where President Jean May conducted a short business meeting.

An invitation for two of our members to attend Nelson W.I. 60th Anniversary has been received.

Gladys Chester and Laila Smith thanked everyone for participating in their birthday celebrations.

Next meeting is at the home of Gisela Malchin, Oct. 4 at 7:30 p.m. Janet Johnson will speak about teaching native Indians. Visitors are welcome.

87th Birthday

Congratulations to Margaret Russell of Norval, who celebrated her 87th birthday Sept. 8th, with a family dinner at the home of her nephew and family Robert Russell, and her niece Beverley Burton and her family, both of Toronto. A grand afternoon was enjoyed talking over old times.
