

EDGEWOOD ANGORA

Craft Fair

Joanna Fraser points out one of her handmade mohair fleece sweaters that she was selling at Milton's Christmas Crafts Fair last Sunday at the Ontario Agricultural Museum. Fraser has displayed her works at the fair for the last five years and also makes clothing out of Angora rabbits. (Herald photo)

Annual exhibition just around the corner

Forty-eight years ago a group of Georgetown women collected their creative efforts to stage an arts and crafts exhibition so that gifts would be available during war-time.

The Arts and Crafts of Georgetown is gearing up for their 48th annual exhibition to be held at North Halton Golf and Country Club Oct. 6 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

President of the club, Pat Beer, said there will be a variety of crafts to buy, all of which were created by club members. The club, which meets every second month, spends a year working for the exhibition. There were nearly 25 pieces of art for sale at last year's exhibition.

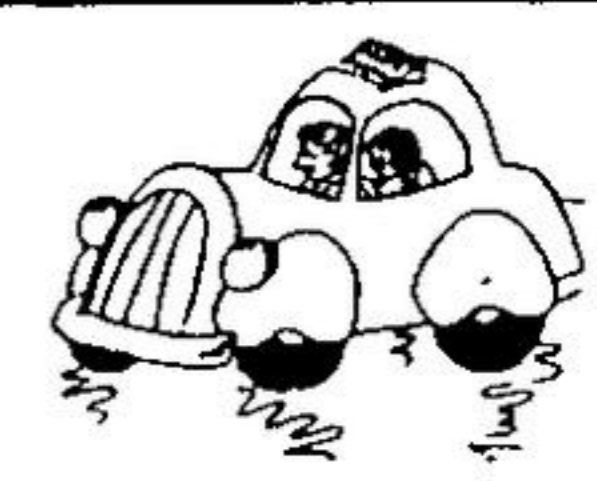

Club members also extend their experience to those interested in learning various crafts, said Mrs. Beer. Members are experts in crafts such as weaving, stencilling, silversmithing, oil painting, rug hooking, creating everlasting silk plants and even designing play jewelry, she continued.

The members enjoy their crafts and are dedicated to their work, said Mrs. Beer. "They create a very high standard of craft."
