

Raceway planning United Way event

OAKVILLE - Mohawk Raceway, in co-operation with Halton Region and the United Way, is hosting "Halton Week-End At The Races" on Saturday, November 17th and Sunday, November 18th.

Mohawk Raceway, one of four tracks owned and operated by The Ontario Jockey Club, is offering free grandstand admission and race programs to companies and organizations in Halton.

Companies, in turn, can sell the tickets to their employees. Proceeds from the ticket sales can be donated to the United Way as part of the company's fund raising campaign.

This is a great opportunity where the business community and the United Way can work together. Businesses can raise employee moral. Mohawk Raceway can benefit from promotional awareness, and in turn, a local charity, the United Way, will benefit from the community-wide fund raising efforts.

To participate in "Halton Week-End At The Races", contact: Pam Banks, Tourism Promotions Co-Ordinator, Halton Region Telephone: (416) 827-2151, ext. 412.

Mohawk night
