Guys and Dolls production features talented crew

Georgetown Globe Productions is presenting Guys and Dolls at the John Elliott Theatre on the evenings of Nov. 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, 24, 29, 30 and Dec. 1. Sunday matinees will be Nov. 18 and 25. Tickets are available now from Marilyn Champ at Royal LePage on Guelph St.

Globe has been fortunate again this year in securing three extremely talented people as Artistic Director, Musical Director and Choreographer.

Globe-followers will recognize Artistic Director Michael Clipperton from his past involvement with the troupe - as the lead in "L'il Abner" in 1986 and as Artistic Director for "Stay Tuned" in 1987. A graduate of York University with an Honours B.A. in Theatre, Michael continues to put his talent and creativity to use as he guides the cast of Guys and Dolls through each scene. An indication of his commitment and enthusiasm is the fact that Michael travels to Georgetown three times a week from the Coldwater area where he is employed as a teacher at Orillia District Collegiate.

Terry Seaman of Toronto also brings years of experience to his position as Musical Director of Guys and Dolls. Terry graduated from McGill University and has continued to pursue private studies in composition, voice and organ. The list of Terry's theatrical and musical credits includes positions as Composer, Musical Director, Artistic Director, private teacher and coach both in the U.S. and across Canada. Globe Productions has long been known for their award winning choral work, due to their association with quality Musical Directors such as Terry.

Evelyn Webster was first involved with Globe in 1987 when she was choreographer for "Kiss Me Kate". Once again she uses her imagination, discipline and sense of humour as she guides the cast of Guys and Dolls through innovative dance routines. A resident of Mississauga, Ev has many years of formal training in tap, jazz, ballroom and folk dancing. She attended York University in the Fine Arts Dance Program. Evelyn has performed on television in Toronto and New York as well as working with many theatre groups in Ontario and Greece.

It takes talent and dedication to bring a musical production to the stage. Globe has found these qualities in its directors for Guys and Dolls. Find out for yourself by dropping into Royal LePage for your tickets today.
