Guys and Dolls production features Mission Band

With less than a week to go, if you haven't got your tickets for "Guys and Dolls" yet, this is the time to do it, before they're sold out.

There are still some tickets available for Globe Productions Gala evening on Nov. 15, a benefit performance for The North Halton Association for the Developmentally Handicapped.

Your attendance that evening will be rewarded by coffee and dessert in the gallery after the show and a chance to meet the cast and crew. Other performances are Nov. 16, 17, 22, 23, 24, 29, 30 and Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. and

Nov. 18 and 25 at 2 p.m. Royal Lepage Real Estate at 170 Guelph St. has tickets for sale for $11 each.

Well-known local voice instructor Debbie Tilson plays a lead role in "Guys and Dolls". As Sister Sarah Brown, the head of the Save-Soul Mission, her biggest challenge is saving the notorious gamblers from the streets of New York.

She can't accomplish this feat alone of course, and her Mission Band can be seen throughout the show lustily singing the message of abstinence from drinking and gambling.

Two members of the Mission Band who are instrumental to Sister Sarah's work are also well known to Globe followers. Audrey Houston plays Arvide Abernathy, Sarah's aunt and confidant. Vera MacDonald is none other than General Martha Cartwright who comes to inspect the Mission and finds it sadly lacking in "saved souls". The determined Mission Band members who follow Sarah are played by Valerie Buck, Christine Ford Gillian Hill, Tricia MacFarlane, Marny Malcolmson, Marie McMaster, Doug MacDougall and Jeanette Meinemann.

Throughout "Guys and Dolls" the "two-bit gambler" Nathan Detroit is flanked by his motley crew of unredeemable crapshooters.

Their ongoing search for a suitable place for the "oldest established permanent floating crap game in New York" takes a turn for the hilarious when they find themselves attending Sister Sarah's Mission meeting as the result of a bet with the infamous gambler Sky Masterson.

The crapshooters are Angie the Ox, played by Doug MacDougall, Liver Lips Louie, played by Jim Hooper, Society Max, played by Tom Knowles, and Cedric Briggs. Another amusing character is police Lt. Brannigan, played by Eddie Plackett, who is continually frustrated in his endeavors to catch Nathan and his gang in an illegal crap game.

The entire cast is working non-stop to ensure that the audience enjoys this rollicking musical, an entertaining event for the whole family.
