Glen Williams cub pack off to flying start

By JEAN LAYMAN
Herald Special

First Glen Williams Cub Pack is off to a flying start for the 90-91 year.

The pack had a visit to Scouter Jean Kozler's Shop to learn all about printing. The Cubs made posters and will have them finished soon.

Scouter Jean Layman was invited to the Pack to present Tristan Temple with his Black Star. Tristan has earned all five stars with keen interest, a goal he wanted to accomplish. He now wants to earn a sleeve full of proficiency badges.

Five Cubs recently attended the Conservation Day Workshop. A program co-ordinated by Sandy Symmes at the Terra Cotta Conservation Area, those were Jason Gadoutson, Andrew Major, Chris Martyniuk, Paul Jorgenson and Tristan Temple.

Cubmaster Roger Temple gathered up all the articles in his garage for the Cubs to form a Rhythm Band with Assistant Cub Leader Mark Rowe conducting the band for Christmas Carols. After the first song the Cubs performed like old pro's. The beat was just super for Jingle Bells, Rudolph etc.

For all packs in North Halton District, interested in helping their Cubs earn their Religion-in-Life Award and attend the Holy Cross Church, should get in touch with Scouter Mark Rowe as soon as possible - 877-9510.

First Georgetown Cub Pack of St. John's United Church, were very busy last Thursday evening putting final touches on a banner for the Santa Claus parade to be held on Saturday. ACM Robert Leon in charge of this banner kept the Cub's busy.

During the opening ceremony Cubmaster Ken Nokes called on Scouter Jean Layman to give some history on First Georgetown Scouting. Then a pleasant surprise - Cub David King was going to be invested, David's father was in attendance - whom Scouter Jean had invested a number of years ago, same pack/same place. He is known to Jean as (Wm.) Billy King.

Cubmaster Ken Nokes invested three New Chums, Kraig Anderssen, David King and Justin Burton with parents and ACM George Hansman assisting.

Scouter Jean Layman was on hand to invest New Leaders - Brenda Anderssen, Edward Burton, Carol Dimarco, Peter Moss, Cindy Stapleton and Paul Alexander. Scouter Jean called on the sons of these leaders to assist in the ceremony.

The pack has a full compliment of leaders and will be starting to organize the choir ready for Scout Week in February, 1991.

Other district events for the pack will be the Craft Workshop for first year Cubs on January 19th and the North Halton District Cub Kar Rally on February 16th.
